LIED FOR BARBIE DWYER TESTIFIES

Trial Testimony Pages 6 and 7

By JOHN BRADFORD MAIN
Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Aug. 4—Lies and lies—and then another lie to save the reputation of Barbara Carroll, the girl he loved, from connection with two horror slayings—were admitted today in cross-examination testimony by Paul N. Dwyer.

As one link in the chain of lies he told after his arrest in New Jersey with the bodies of Dr. and Mrs. James G. Littlefield in the auto he drove, the 19-year-old youth said he changed one of his confessions to eliminate Barbara.

This change, said Dwyer, now serving life for the doctor's murder, was at the suggestion of former Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll, the man Paul now accuses of both macabre slayings.

WITH DWYER'S BELT

And in one part of today's testimony, Paul changed his story from that of yesterday, when he said Carroll strangled Mrs. Littlefield, "with his hands, I imagine."

Todayy he testified Carroll strangled her with his, Dywer's, belt, which Carroll had ordered him to take off.

Stocks Fail To Hold Advance

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP) — Selected industrial stocks leaned moderately toward the rallying side of today's market. Dealings, however, were slow.

Gains of fractions to $1 a share or so in steels, motors and other leaders predominated at the opening. These we.e subsequently chipped down or cancelled in many cases. Prices hardened again after noon, but most were under the most near the final hour.

Jap Peace Bid To Reds

By DON IRWIN
International News Servie Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Aug. 4 (INS)—Unable to war on two mighty neighbors at once, Japan tonight sued for a face-saving peace with the Soviet Union.

While Soviet artillery kept the Siberian frontier conflict alive by heavily shelling the badly-shattered Korean town of Kojo, Japan rushed a compromise proposal to Moscow by which the Changkufeng battleground would become a neutral area.

Coincident with dispatch of the peace offer, the war office announced:

"Soviet artillery intermittently bombarded the Japanese lines along the border zone throughout the day. Otherwise the situation is unchanged."

Terms of the settlement as presented to Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov in Moscow by Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu, are authoritatively stated to be:

OFFER TO WITHDRAW

1—Japan will withdraw from the disputed area around Changkufeng Hill.

2—Soviet forces will undertake not to reoccupy the area.

3—The neutral area thus formed will remain inviolate until a commission can demarcate the frontier at that point.

Backing down in her threats of "strong measures" when it became apparent that the Changkufeng struggle was gravely interfering with the China campaign, Japan presented a similar peace plan to the Soviet charge d'affaires in Tokyo.

It was rescribed as a "compromise by which hostilities could be suspended without loss of prestige to either side."

SEE REJECTION

Diplomatic observers' first reaction to the peace plan was that the Soviets would likely reject it.

They pointed out that previous efforts to form a joint commission to demarcate the ill-defined frontier, which traverses a wild area, failed because Japan wanted equal representation of the U. S. S. R., Manchukuo, and Japan.

Under the deadly Soviet fire Kojo, bombed and shelled four times in as many days, was safely evacuated, an army communique said.

"Otherwise the frontier position is calm, showing no important change around Changkufeng," the bulletin said.

Calling Fascism's Bluff, Soviet Angle on Crisis

Copyright, 1938

MOSCOW, Aug. 4 (INS) — Soviet Russia is "calling Fascism's bluff" and stands ready to "teach Japan a terrible lesson" if "invasions" of Siberia continue, a high official told International News Service today.

Yet, while the danger of war is "very great," it is "not inevitable," in the general view of Soviet officialdom. Authorities still feel there is some slight hope left for arbitration.

Russ Blast Hits Britain

PARIS, Aug. 4 (INS)—At the moment when Russia and Japan are feeling one another out with fingers of steel, and France is reportedly counselling restraint by her Moscow ally because of the Czechoslovakian situation, the old British-Russian antagonisms are suddenly flaring up again.

Diplomatic circles were both startled and astonished when the Soviet government loosened a violent campaign against Britain at this perilous moment, including published charges by Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet state prosecutor, that British secret agents had attempted to blow up the Kremlin and Grand Opera House in Moscow in 1927.

OLD HATRED SMOULDERS

The old mistrust and hatred of Britain have been smouldering for some time.

Claiming to possess the largest military air force in the world, President Kalinin recently, at a meeting of Soviet naval construction specialists, threw down a challenge to Britain on the sea by proclaiming that the Soviet government would build a Red fleet equal to the British navy.

Kalinin's speech climaxed the most bitter attack on England that has been heard in Moscow for some years.

FORD, MORGAN HIT

Kalinin charged that tory circles in England have long been aiming to bring about a Russo-Japanese conflict in the Far East.

While it was said that even the United States was "not free of Japanophiles like Morgan and Ford, who have large interests in Japan," it was stressed that the driving power behind Japan is Britain, which allegedly everywhere seeks to obstruct Russia.

Czech Flight Over Germany Angers Nazis

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (INS)—The German press foamed angrily today against a new "invasion" of German territory by two Czechoslovakian military planes reported to have flown beyond the Czech border.

The newspapers accused the Prague government of "sabotaging (the mission of Viscount Runciman," British mediator who arrived in the Chech capital last night to help settle the present Czech-German controversy.

A sharp protest will be made by the Nazi government against the alleged aerial violation.

The Voelkischer Beobachter, Nazi organ, also gave prominence to an interview its Tokyo correspondent had with Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye in which the Japanese official said:

"Japan is determined to take suitable steps to convince the Soviet Union of the urgent necessity for carrying out a settlement of their frontier dispute by peaceful means."

Yangtze Floods Peril Jap March

SHANGHAI, Aug. 4 (AP)—Yangtze river floods threatened today to block the Japanese advance upstream toward Hankow, the provisional capital.

Broken dikes 30 miles above Kiuklang were said by Chinese to have caused inundation of five towns the Japanese occupied this week.

Chinese believed the floods sufficient to force the Japanese to realign their offensive.

3d Market Day Shows Big Sales

Boston manufacturers today listed $700,000 worth of business as the Wholesale Garment Association began its third and final day of Boston Market Week at Hotel Statler.

The sales represented about 50 per cent increase over last year, with more than 4000 persons from all parts of the nation registered at the sessions.

A total of 150 lines of merchandise are on display at this year's market, an annual event devoted to previews of the latest fall fashions in dresses, coats, suits, sportswear, furs and other apparel for the autumn wardrobe.

More than 2000 buyers attended the dinner and fashion show at which 25 of Boston's prettiest mannequins displayed the latest in ski-wear, town and country clothes, evening gowns, lounging apparel and furs.

Cape Invaded

Men of War' Peril Fish, Humans Safe

HYANNIS, Aug. 4 (AP)—Poison-laden Portuguese Men of War have invaded waters off Cape Cod, but should cause no serious alarm.

The Men of War were described by George M. Gray, curator of the Marine Biological Laboratory, as a peculiar water animal, resembling an electric light bulb, whose tentacles carry a mild poison.

Although their poison can stun some fish, it merely stings humans.

Gray suggested washing the wound with soap and water as a sure cure.

'JILTED' She Says; 'BORED' Says He

WORCESTER, Aug. 4—They met last October at a dime-store notion counter. It was love at first sight.

She had never been kissed by a man before, but he pressed his lips to hers and asked her to marry him.

That was in November.

Then he jilted her a few months later, although they had set a wedding date soon after Easter and had planned a honeymoon home.

Such in brief was the testimony given in district court today by Miss Rose L. Levine, 22, daughter of a Worcester tailor.

She appeared as plaintiff in a $10,000 breach of promise suit against Irving Goodman, 23, son of a wall paper company executive.

Goodman testified he was friendly once with Miss Levine, but he denied having promised to marry her.

He ceased to keep company with her, he said, because she "bored" him.

Scott Colton Wed to Artist

GLENDALE, Cal., Aug. 4 (AP)—Azadia Newman, portrait artist, and Scott Colton, screen actor, went by plane to Phoenix, Ariz., were married at the airport chapel and flew back to Hollywood, where Colton must answer a screen call this morning.

Azadia Newman

Miss Newman, daughter of the late Edwin A. Newman, once chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Colton met five years ago when she painted his portrait.

Bride Loyal In Theft Case

"Stand by him? Of course I will! I love him."

Thus did a 23-year-old South End girl, a bride of three weeks today reaffirm her faith in her 24-year-old husband, Walter Sickles of Wollaston, held by South End police in connection with a series of gas station robberies.

She is the former Margaret McNamara, a waitress, of Tremont street, South End.

Sickles was arrested by Special Officers James F. Hanley and Harvey Yates, allegedly on information given by a man now in Charles street jail awaiting trial.

Loot from the thefts totals nearly $4000. The robberies extend over an eight-year period, police charge.

Blood Dooms Boy, 2, to Die

Doomed by practically unanimous medical opinion, little Dick Sullivan of Norwood was nearing death today.

Doctors agreed his life could not be saved by any means known to science.

They said no patient had ever recovered from acute lymphatic leukemia, the rare and mysterious blood disease which was wasting the infant's strength away, hour by hour.

By two-year-old Dick's bedside his haggard-faced father, Town Treasurer Edmund F. Sullivan of Norwood, was still keeping vigil today.

NO BLOOD CAN HELP

He tried hard to smile, did his best to cheer his dying son. But he had no hope.

Dick's mother, Mrs. May Sullivan, was in collapse. She is expecting another child.

Dad Sullivan was sharply critical of radio broadcasts, calling for blood-donors.

"The best doctors in Massachusetts have all told me no blood transfusion can help my boy," he said.

More tolerant was Dr. Thomas H. O'Toole, the Sullivan family physician.

He said:

"Appeals for aid for little Dick Sullivan were undoubtedly inspired by the best of motives.

KINDLY VOLUNTEERS

"Persons who volunteered to give blood certainly did so for generous and unselfish reasons.

"But appeals and offers were both based on an utter misunderstanding of the situation.

"There has never been a recorded cure of acute lymphatic leukemia. It is definitely not a malady which can be combated by transfusions of blood from a person who had the disease and recovered.

"Nobody ever did recover from it, so far as medical science has been able to learn.

"Leukemia is an abnormal increase of the white corpuscles of the blood. In the end, it destroys the blood's oxygen-carrying properties."

BLOOD OFFERS REFUSED

By Dr. O'Toole's orders, a Newport, R. I., youth whom police had rushed to Norwood as a possible blood donor was sent home.

All other offers of blood were refused today.

Doctors at City Hospital and the Boston Children's Hospital supported Dr. O'Toole's opinion.

"If the diagnosis of acute lymphatic leukemia is correct," they said, "the Sullivan boy is doomed. It's just a question of time."

Death Shadows Screen

LIFE FLICKERS OUT—To those thousands of youth who breathlessly awaited each episode of Pearl White's movie serials, her death in Paris today brought a shadowing tug to memory . . . a memory of one who carried on, week after week, in such nerve-tingling scenes as the one above. And youth, now grown, mourns.

Pearl White, First Film Heroine, Dies

PARIS, Aug. 4 (AP)—Pearl White, first heroine of the old American movie serial thrillers who always did her own dare-devil stunts, died today in the American Hospital.

She was 49 and had been ill for several weeks of a liver ailment.

In the days when the motion picture business was young, movie audiences sat on the edge of their seats thrilling to the "Perils of Pauline," an adventure-packed serial in which the beauteous heroine managed to reach death's door at the end of each chapter, never to die.

"Pauline" was blonde Pearl White.

She made short trips to the United States in 1927 and 1937.

She went abroad in the first place because her movie days had affected her health. Bare-back riding and stunting for the films took a toll, and her eyes had been affected by the lights employed in the early studios.

Miss White was born in Green Ridge, Mo., March 4, 1889. She made he. debut at six as "Little Eva" in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and her parents got $5 a week for her work.

At 13 she was with a traveling circus as bare-back rider, and several years later went on the stage. She went to the films in 1913.

At the top of her fame she earned $10,000 a week, usually playing opposite Warner Oland, who was the villain.

Weavers' Walk Halted by Heat

SOUTH SUDBURY, Aug. 4—A sizzling sun overhead and a hot highway underfoot stalled the "Walking Weaver" missionary entourage three miles out of town today.

Still 17 miles their Boston goal, the persevering family of 10 hikers, led by the father, John Weaver, 49, deployed along the Waltham road seeking rest before continuing their trek afoot to Boston.

Gospel meetings in Wayland and Waltham were scheduled on the way and after spending the night in the Watch City the Weaver family planned to reach Boston tomorrow.

'Seeing Eye' Ban Sticks

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Hazel Hurst, 22-year-old blind American lecturer, and her "Seeing Eye" dog remained aboard the liner American Merchant today with hopes of gaining permission to take the dog ashore dwindling rapidly.

She telegraphed King George VI asking him to intervene against the regulations requiring dogs to be quarantined. But the King and his family are on a vacation cruise.

An official of the United States Lines said Miss Hurst had made arrangements to return to the United States tomorrow aboard the American Merchant.

MRS. JACK OAKIE

Jack Oakie And Wife Part

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4 (INS)—Screen comedian Jack Oakie, the man who can eat no fat, and Anita Varden, former actress, the wife who could eat no lean, have separated after two years of married life, it was revealed here today.

Oakie, who recently reduced 45 pounds in six weeks, and his wife, who put on 15 in three months, parted ten days ago, friends revealed.

Miss Varden, living at their home here, declined to make any statements. Oakie was understood to have moved to a downtown hotel after their separation but is now reported to be out of town.

If any action is taken, it was understood it will be on the grounds of "incompatibility." Their intimates, however, are making every effort to effect a reconciliation.

Eye A-Glitter

BUFFALO, Wyo., Aug. 4 (AP)—Roy Wight, 18, came to the office of Dr. John Hynds complaining he had something in his eye. The physician removed the obstruction and discovered it was a gold nugget.

Wight said he had been working in a mine.

'Air Guide' Will Show Corrigan Way to Boston

When Douglas "East-Is-West" Corrigan leaves New York by airplane for Boston Monday, he definitely will not land at Baltimore or Norfolk, Va.

For Louis Brems, Boston director of public celebrations, will be sitting, compass figuratively in hand, at the elbow of the famous young Texas Irishman.

Brems was on the tug which was going out to meet Corrigan as the latter approached New York late today, aboard the liner Manhattan.

RECORD WELCOME

And Brems' orders from Mayor Tobin were to stick closer to Corrigan than the flyer's own shadow.

"I'll have him in Boston soon after noon, Monday, as scheduled," Brems promised.

That enabled the mayor to predict today that the Corrigan welcome here will set a new record for public enthusiasm.

The Corrigan clan will have a place of honor on reviewing stands and reception committees, but the Murphys and the Kellys won't be overlooked.

And Boston citizens, as a whole, will turn out to take to their hearts the doughty little Texan who solo-hopped from New York to Dublin "by mistake."

MANY FESTIVITIES

As the Corrigan reception was tentatively outlined today, it called for a first public greeting to the flier at the Boston Airport.

After that Corrigan will be taken in an open automobile through East Boston, Chelsea and Charlestown to Boston Common, passing the State House and City Hall, it was promised.

There'll be a luncheon and a dinner, further details of which are yet to be announced.

Newsmen Board Ship As Corrigan Nears N. Y.

was so foggy when he made some trips up on the bridge, Corrigan grinned, that he was convinced the liner was headed in the wrong direction.

And today it was disclosed that a young lady has come into Doug's life, for the first time since his flight to Ireland.

LUNCHES WITH AUDREY

Her name is "Audrey," and she is on the younger side of 20, she is an English girl, and thinks Corrigan is "one of the best and greatest Americans I have ever met."

Audrey revealed that she had lunch with Corrigan the other day.

Corrigan was up at 6:30 this morning, he said, and it was obvious that h ewas thrilled to the marrow about the forthcoming reception.

ENGINE ROOM FAN

Before going to his stateroom every night at 10 or 11 Corrigan has been spending most of his time in the engine room or on the bridge with the captain.

He also cabled a message of "good cheer and best luck" to 11-year-old Joanne Foland at the James Whitcomb Riley hospital for crippled children at Indianapolis.

When he does arrive in New York, probably late this afternoon, he will insist that he flew across the Atlantic to Ireland "by mistake."

Asks House Invite Gatelee to Speak

The House of Representatives today was asked to invite President John F. Gatelee of the State Federation of Labor to address them on a bill filed by Representative Joseph L. Murphy of Dorchester.

The request followed Gatelee's statement at the Worcester labor convention that "I'd like to ask for the privilege of the floor of the House to talk to those muggs on unemployment legislation in this state."

U. S. Envoy Wilson Planes to Prague

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 4 (AP)—Hugh R. Wilson, United States ambassador to Germany, arrived by air today from Warsaw "to get a closer view" of developments in the sudden German minority problem since the arrival of Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator and adviser.

Although thesemi-official newspaper Prager Presse hailed Wilson's visit as a manifestation of the United States' interest in the fate of Czechoslovakia, the ambassador denied he was on an official mission.

'Teamster' Kelly To Address AFL

By JOHN W. ENGLISH

Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

WORCESTER, Aug. 4—As one teamster to another, Nicholas J. Morrissey, American Federation of Labor convention delegate from Teamsters' Union No. 15 of Boston, today invited Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly to attend the union dinner dance tonight at a local hotel.

And thereby hangs the tale of the shrewdest political strategy of the current gubernatorial campaign. Thus has the lieutenant governor been assured of the opportunity to address convention delegates over the opposition of its executive board.

Lieutenant Governor Kelly is a member of the union in good standing, having continuously paid dues since he began to earn a living in his younger days by driving a laundry truck in Dorchester.

KELLY ACCEPTS

Kelly campaign cohorts, dumbfounded by the achievement of former Governor Curley in "crashing" the convention gate, had feverishly sought ways and means to circumvent the convention ban on "political" speeches.

Today their quest was ended by a simple telegram from Morrissey, a candidate for Federation president. Morrissey asked Kelly to be the toastmasters' guest at the Worcester hotel party. With suitable modesty, Lieutenth-Governor Kelly accepted the honor.

FIERY DEBATE

The dinner dance was preceded this afternoon by fiery debate in a torrid temperature over several resolutions brought before the delegates for discussion.

They adopted one supporting the Rooseveltian recommendation for quarantine of aggressor nations and tabled another which would bar the United States from foreign entanglements.

An emissary of the lieutenant governor attended the convention and was informed by delegates from Teamsters Local 15 of Boston that if Kelly came to Worcester they would see to it that he was given the privilege of having the floor. It was this same group that made it possible for Curley to "crash" the convention and make a speech in which he severly criticized Gov. Hurley for alleged lack of interest in the problems of workers.

GREEN TO SPEAK

Delegates are looking forward with keen interest to the personal appearance of President Green of the American Federation of Labor tomorrow. He will arrive in Boston from Washington at 8 a. m. tomorrow and motor from South Station to Worcester.

Election of officers will come tomorrow afternoon with two candidates in the field for president. They are Morrissey any Anthony J. DeAndrade of Boston Printing Pressmen's union.

It is expected there will be a hot fight for election of two vice-presidents in district 3. Four candidates are Charles M. Irwin, secretary of Lowell Central Labor Union; Walter W. Cenerazzo, business agent of Gloucester Sea Food Workers Union, and John A. Gillis, secretary of Haverhill Central Labor Union.

Bachelor Tax Ruled Illegal

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4 (AP)—A law imposing a special tax on bachelors, adopted several months ago by the Tamaulipas state legislature, has been declared unconstitutional by Magistrate Jesus Garza Cabello of the Supreme Court.

He praised the legislature's efforts to increase the birth rate but ruled the Mexican citizen can not be forced to assume a particular civil status.

England's Got What N. E. Had

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The heaviest rainstorms in many years swept England's west coast today.

Railway and automobile traffic was dislocated, telephone communication disrupted, hundreds of motorists abandoned their cars, and homes and hotels were flooded. Roofs were shattered by hailstones at Torquay.

The storm also swept Ireland and Wales.

Text of Dwyer's Cross-Quiz

Tells Jury He Lied, Still Feared Carroll

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Aug. 4—Here is testimony given today at the trial of former Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll, now charged with the slaying of Dr. James G. Littlefield, for which crime Paul N. Dwyer, 18, is serving a life sentence.

Defense Counsel Clyde Chapman's cross-examination of Dwyer, on stand for the second day:

A—After your apprehension in New Jersey you made a statement to authorities? A—Yes, sir.

Q—Was that statement of yours redured to writing? A—I don't know, sir.

"I DON'T REMEMBER"

Q—What did you tell them? A—First I denied I killed him. Then I had a talk with Officer Keene and told them I did it.

Q—Did you tell them how you killed Mrs. Littlefield? A—I don't know. I don't remember.

Q—Did you talk fully and freely? A—I don't think so.

Q—You don't remember? A—No.

Q—Did you talk to the lieutenant? A—I don't remember just what it was about except that he told me I might just as well confess it, there was no use in fighting.

Q—Do you know what prompted you to make the statement you did? A—I wanted to get out of New Jersey and get back here to Maine.

WANTED TO SEE CARROLL

Q—Why did you want to get back here to Maine, Mr. Dwyer? A—I wanted to see Mr. Carroll.

Q—Did you make an effort to see Mr. Carroll on your return to Maine? A—I did see him. I sent word by one of the deputies, don't know which one it was.

Q—Don't you remember in New Jersey you made a statement that you didn't want to see Mr. Carroll? A—I don't remember that.

Q—Of whom did you make that request? A—I didn't exactly make a request.

Q—For what purpose did you wish to see Mr. Carroll? A—I wanted to see what to do.

Q—And did you see him? A—Yes.

STILL AFRAID OF HIM

Q—Were you afraid of him at that time? A—Yes.

Q—And what did he tell you to do? A—Keep my mouth shut.

Q—After making your first statement you went to Hackensack and there you made another statement? A—Yes, sir.

Q—That was taken down by a stenographer? A—Yes, sir

Q—You signed it? A—Yes, sir.

Q—When did you last see that statement? A—I have never seen it.

Q—You said you signed it, didn't you? A—I mean since I signed it, Excuse me.

Q—On arriving in Portland did you make any request to see Mr. Carroll? A—I don't remember. I believe I asked a deputy.

ADMITS HE LIED

Q—Did you tell the truth to the county attorney of Cumberland count? A—No, sir.

Q—Why not? A—I don't know.

Q—Did you later make a statement to the sheriff of Cumberland county? A—No, sir.

—I don't remember of doing that.

Q—Was the statement you made to the Cumberland County attorney a written statement? A—Yes, sir.

Q—Do you remember making any statement of any kind to the sheriff of Cumberland County? A—No, sir.

Q—When was the first time you saw Carroll? A—A few minutes after I was locked up.

Q—In the county jail here? A—Yes, sir.

Q—Who locked you up? A—One of the deputies.

Q—When did you first see Sheriff Fernando Francis of this county? A—He was with us all the way on the train.

Q—Did you tell Sheriff Francis the truth? A—No, sir.

Q—Why not? A—I don't know.

WHEN CARROLL SIGNED

Q—What statement did you make to Sheriff Francis? A—I changed my motive. I said I killed him for—

The testimony was interrupted by the passing of a railroad train and that sentence was not completed.

Attorney Chapman next produced one of the statements Dwyer made, and it was accepted in evidence:

"October 15, I killed Littlefield because I needed money. I became panic stricken and did the rest as in my previous confession. The girl angle is all a big mistake because of some letters found in my baggage in New Jersey. I make this statement of my own free will."

Carroll's signature is on that statement as one of the witnesses to Dwyer's signature.

Q—What conversation occurred between you and the defendant, Carroll, in the meantime? A—I don't know exactly. It was to get Barbara's name out of that confession somehow.

'KEEP MOUTH SHUT!'

Q—Up to that point, was that all he had said to you? A—He had told me to keep my mouth shut and not to say anything to any of the officers.

Q—Was that all he said to you? A—I think that's all I can remember at that time.

Q—Where were you when that conversation took place? A—In the cell block in the county jail.

Q—Was anyone else present? A—I don't know.

Q—The difference in your confession was to eliminate the name of Miss Barbara? A—Yes, sir.

Q—And that change was entirely voluntary on your part other than the persuasion of Mr. Carroll? A—Yes, sir.

Q—And you don't remember the sheriff in Cumberland County telling you that the motive was obviously robbery? A—No, sir.

Q—You made other statements? A—At what time?

Q—What was your story about the dope ring? A—I don't remember what it was; I was going to use it in my defense once.

Q—What caused you to change your mind? A—It reflected on Dr. Littlefield too much.

Q—Had you any knowledge that Dr. Littlefield was a user of drugs? A—No.

Q—Have you heard it since?

Objection sustained.

CALLED "DOPE USER"

Q—Was that story suggested to you by anyone? A—Yes, sir.

Q—By whom? A—By Mr. Carroll.

Q—What was his reason? A—I asked him what I could use for a defense. He said there was a lot of talk that I was a dope user and that it might make a logical basis for my defense.

The defense produced in evidence Dwyer's first statement, made to Police Chief Shipee in New Jersey. Young Dwyer identified it.

MURDER "CONFESSION"

It reads:

"October 16, 6:30 a. m. Made to Chief of Police John Shipee. You are accused of the crime of the murders of Dr. and Mrs. Littlefield.

"My name is Paul Nathaniel Dwyer. It started when Dr. Littlefield came up to the house and was going to treat me. After he got thru we were talking and he mentioned something about an old friend of mine, a girl I was going with last winter, and he said she was pregnant.

"I hit him and he fell and his head hit the bathtub. He got up and started to fight and I started to strangle him. I put a belt around him and strangled him and hit him with a hammer. I hit him two or three times."

The confession goes on to outline how Paul picked up the doctor's body in his arms, carried it downstairs, put it into the trunk of the car, and how, later, he called Mrs. Littlefield a... her home and told her the doctor had run over and killed two men and wanted her to come to him.

It continues with Paul's description of his trip with Mrs. Littlefield.

Chapman's questioning of Dwyer continued after a brief recess for the defense counsel to recover from the heat.

Q—At the time you told Mrs. Littlefield of the killing of her husband, you told her the true story? A—Yes, Sir.

"I WAS SCARED"

Q—You now remember what you told her? A—I told her the argument up to the house and the manner in which Dr. Littlefield was killed. I didn't tell her that the body was in the back of the car. I told her Carroll had it. I told her we had carried it out of the house and that he had put it in his car and taken it away.

Q—While you and Mrs. Littlefield were waiting outside of Carroll's house did you converse? A—Yes, she wanted to go right into the house and I didn't want her to.

Q—Why not? A—Well,—

Q—Were you scared? A—Yes, I was scared.

Q—Did you discuss calling the authorities? A—What authorities?

Q—Sheriff Francis? A—No.

Q—Why not? A—I was scared.

Q—Scared of what. A—I don't know.

Q—When Carroll came out of the house was he alone? A—Yes, sir.

Q—When Carroll stopped his car was he in front of you? A—Yes, sir.

Q—What was the first thing said by anyone after those two car stopped? A—Mrs. Littlefield started to say something, but Dwyer Story 'Hot'? Well, Not That Hot!

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Aug. 4—The Carroll trial had been little more than an hour under way today when Defense Counsel Clyde Chapman halted in his reading of Paul Dwyer's original confession, swayed and raised a hand to his head.

A recess was called, at suggestion of Special Prosecutor Ingalls, who said that Chapman was ill. Later Chapman explained that he experienced a brief dizzy spell, "because it was so hot."

"What—the statement?" he was asked.

"Hell, no—the temperature!" he answered disgustedly.

'Babs' Gaily Dances, Then Goes to Court

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Aug. 4—After dancing until an early hour at a roadhouse only three miles from where her father was in a cell, Barbara Carroll was back in court today during cross-examination of her former sweetheart, Paul N. Dwyer.

Only a few hours before Barbara stepped out on the dance floor, Paul, "lifer" who now charges her father with the slayings for which Paul went to prison, had publicly proclaimed, in court, his love. But Barbara danced with another man.

'I Still Feared Carroll,' Dwyer Explains to Jury

she never said it. I don't know what it was.

"WAS KNOCKED DOWN"

Q—Do you know what prevented her from saying it? A—Yes, sir.

Q—What? A—She was knocked down.

Q—She was knocked down? A—Yes, sir.

Q—Where was she when this took place? A—She was partly on the running board.

Q—Where was Carroll? A—Getting out of his car.

Q—Getting out of his car? A—He was all the way out by that time.

"CARROLL HAD GUN"

Q—Who had the gun? A—Carroll.

Q—Did Mrs. Littlefield have a gun do you know? A—I've never been sure of that, sir.

Q—Didn't you tell people she had a gun? A—I thought she did— I—

Q—Didn't you tell people she did? A—Maybe I did. I've never been sure of it.

Q—What did Carroll say to you? A—He asked me where the hell I'd been with Mrs. Littlefield.

Q—Yes? A—I told him I'd taken her out of town the night before. I don't remember just what the rest of the conversation was about. We drove up on Turkey Hill.

Q—Going up the Turkey Hill road Mrs. Littlefield was in the front seat with you, Carroll was in the back seat? A—Yes, sir.

Q—Were you scared? A—I don't know what I was by then.

Q—Did you stop on the road or in a field? A—We drove into a field.

Q—And there you say Carroll strangled Mrs. Littlefield? A—Yes, sir.

Q—And you were sitting there on the front seat? A—Yes, sir.

Q—And you turned your head away and didn't look? A—Yes, sir.

"I COULDN'T GET OUT"

Dwyer stated that five to eight minutes elapse between the time they arrived on Turkey Hill and the murder of Mrs. Littlefield.

"So it wouldn't appear to Carroll that I had double crossed him," he stated on the stand, "I told him I had taken Mrs. Littlefield out of town with the intention to kill her but that I couldn't do it and had brought her back."

Q—Did you atempt to get out of the car? A—He had a gun. I couldn't have gotten very far.

Young Dwyer changed his story of yesterday in which he said that Carroll strangled Mrs. Littlefield "with his hands, I imagine," and today stated on the stand that Mrs. Littlefield was strangled with his, Dwyer's, belt.

Q—Did you take the belt, or did he take it off of you? A—He told me to give it to him.

Chapman then introduced by agreement Dwyer's statements to Bergen County, New Jersey, officials. A copy was accepted, the original, it being explained, not being available.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 6 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

His 'Carroll Terror' Told to Jury by Dwyer

tell the story of his deceptions to save her good name.

Barbara's face was flushed and her expression more somber and brooding than on yesterday. At times there appeared to be pain in her eyes, as when she listened to passages in one "confession" describing her as "a pretty fast little number."

At her daughter's side was Mrs. Caroll, and in another part of the courtroom sat Paul's mother.

And she heard him testify that, ironically, her father signed as a witness to one of Dwyer's confessions of guilt.

It was Carroll also who suggested, Paul declared, that for his defense he say that he believed members of a "dope ring" killed Dr. Littlefield.

In a county jail statement before being brought to trial, Dwyer had said he believed members of such a ring killed the elderly physican last October 13.

DEFENDED DOCTOR

"I was going to use it in my defense once," Paul said, then added:

"It reflected on Dr. Littlefield too much."

This last was in answer to a cross-examination question as to what made him change his mind.

He had no knowledge that the doctor was a user of narcotics, Paul said.

A shirt-sleeve courtroom listened intently to Paul's testimony.

Defendant Carroll, grim and as unbending as ever, sat between two shirt-sleeved deputies, former co-workers, and was himself coatless, with a white shirt, yellow-tan necktie and white trousers.

A FEVERED ORDEAL

Dwyer, on the stand, likewise was coatless, took frequent drinks of water during his second day of testimony.

As was the case yesterday, the youth was permitted to be seated while giving his testimony, although normally the witnesses stand.

Only once did the eyes of Dwyer and Carroll seem to meet.

This was while Attorney Clyde Chapman, defense counsel, was engaged in a long reading of Dwyer's original statement to the New Jersey police.

Dwyer sat with his back to the judge during the reading and he gazed out of the end window behind the jury box.

His right elbow was propped on the ledge running around the inside of the witness box, his thumb and forefinger supporting his chin.

GLANCES CLASH

At one point in the lengthy reading, Carroll reached forward, grasped the back of an empty chair before him and tipped the chair backward, toward himself.

Either the sound, or chance, brought Paul back from his contemplation of the scene through the window.

For a brief instant the eyes of Paul and the man he now accuses of the slayings which sent the witness to State Prison appeared to meet.

Then Paul turned back again and a faint, tight-lipped smile flickered on Carroll's face—and was gone as quickly as it came.

Dwyer turned again toward the courtroom, coughed and reached for another glass of water.

ON CARROLL'S ORDER

During his cross-examination today, Paul admitted that in his first confessions—his admitted "chain of lies"—he failed to implicate Carroll.

This omission, however, the youth asserted, was because Carroll had told him to "keep my mouth shut."

The continuing heat and the stuffiness of the jammed courtroom brought a halt in the trial little more than an hour after it had been resumed today.

Defense Attorney Chapman, while reading young Dwyer's original statement made to New Jersey authorities, suddenly swayed and raised his hand uncertainly to his head.

In a flash, Special Prosecutor Ralph M. Ingalls was on his feet, requesting a recess and stating he believed his brother counsel was ill. The recess was called. But it was of short duration.

Afterward, Chapman explained that he suddenly had become faint because it was too hot.

"What—the statement?" he was asked.

"Hell, no—the temperature," he replied in evident disgust.

"TO SEE CARROLL"

"At first I denied I killed them," Paul testified in telling the story of his arrest in New Jersey. "Then I had a talk with Officer Keene and told them I did it."

He said, "I don't think so," in answer to a question as to whether he had talked freely.

And later he made another varying statement to authorities at Hackensack, N. J.

Paul's only interest, he asserted, in telling police any story was to get back to Maine and "see Mr. Carroll—to see what to do."

CARROLL TO TESTIFY

Only a few minutes before Attorney Chapman had turned toward Dwyer and, with a wave of his hand, directed him to resume the stand, Co-Defense Counsel Beauchamp had said:

"Carroll will absolutely take the witness stand to refute the accusations that Dwyer has hurried at him."

Young Dwyer under cross-examination is not the same quiet, almost calm witness he was under the questioning of Special Prosecutor Ingalls. The fabric of his accusing story still remains intact but he is beginning to show definite signs of bewilderment and confusion. His words run together; his voice drops to an almost inaudible whisper.

Under the guidance of the prosecution he spoke of the death of Dr. Littlefield with scarcely any display of emotion. The state did not touch at all upon the death of Mrs. Littlefield.

It remained for the defense counsel to do that. The change that came over Dwyer was startling. Beads of perspiration slid down his face, his hands trembled. He appealed to Judge Fisher that he not be forced to testify concerning the death of the woman. Judge Fisher ruled that he must answer.

INDEPENDENTS ON TICKET

A total of 28 candidates, including eight aspirants for governor, were enlisted as Independents in the battle for state-wide offices next fall.

Curley, Kelly Duel for Spot

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

Jockeying for Democratic primary favor has settled down to a contest for withdrawal of at least one of the anti-Governor Hurley candidates.

While the candidates themselves keep discreet silence, their respective followers have gone "into the highways and the byways" to swing sentiment toward withdrawal of their main rival.

Most of the action comes from the camps of Lieutenant-Governor Francis E. Kelly, seeking promotion to the Governor's chair, and former Governor James M. Curley, moving to regain the chair he held before the regime of Governor Hurley.

"Kelly's early campaign strength is slipping," comes from Curley followers.

RUSSELL THREATS

From the Kelly camp come reports:

"Curley has failed to pick up the strength he expected."

In the background, so far, but looming more and more as a threat, is former Congressman Richard M. Russell of Cambridge, who forsook his early plans to regain a seat in Congress so he could oppose the present governor.

While the Curley and Kelly camps are most active and the Russell forces are working in their own, quiet way, the backers of the governor for renomination are carrying out a campaign for which the governor himself has sounded a keynote of no personal attacks on his rivals.

DEADLINE TOMORROW

Tomorrow at 5 p. m. will settle the withdrawal issues which seem to center more among the Curleyites and the Kelly clan each claiming that the other should retire from the race in order to insure the defeat of the present governor.

Lieutenant-Governor Kelly is on a personal tour of the western part of the state. The Curley forces claim that he is making the trip because his early campaign strength is slipping in that section.

Curley's invasion of the labor convention at Worcester is interpreted by the Kelly workers as an effort to regain labor votes that he once held and later lost.

These are the problems that will face the Democratic voters from now until September 20. The strongest whispering campaign in the history of state politics seems to be a certainty, according to veteran political observers.

The Man who Cares says:—CARSTAIRS

An impression of Buck Thomas by James Montgomery Flagg

A Name of Fine Traditions since 1788

BUCK THOMAS is a well traveled man. But he didn't have to travel far to discover the secret of being a popular host!

"Learn to treat yourself right! That's Rule No. 1!" says Buck. "To be a graceful 'treater' of others, learn to order your own meat and drink wisely and well!

"In choosing a whiskey, consider its ancestry! I went for Carstairs because of the high traditions back of its name. The Carstairs family have been making fine business history since Washington's day. And the present Carstairs Whiskey keeps faith with the time-honored Carstairs standards of integrity."

The Carstairs at your package store or bar today is a blend of several illustrious whiskies. And it's a blend of character, too. Character that gives you deep, mellow flavor with delicate bouquet. Rich, full taste with light body. Character for the Man who Cares!

Carstairs is a blend of several distinguished whiskies. It is 86.8 proof. The straight whiskies in this product are four years or more old. 57½% straight whiskey and 42½% other whiskey four years or more old. Carstairs Bros. Distilling Co., Inc., New York, N. Y.

Landis Opens Drive for City Manager Rule

James M. Landis, dean of Harvard Law School and chairman of a non-partisan Cambridge committee, today opened a drive to bring to Cambridge the Cincinnati form of city government.

Landis, former chairman of the Securities Exchange Commission, appeared many times before the Cambridge city council during the term of former Mayor Richard M. Russell, recommending economy and efficiency in Cambridge government.

The first objective of the drive is to obtain within two weeks 5080 signatures to petitions asking for a referendum. Under the new optional Plan E law, recently signed by Governor Hurley, 10 per cent of the registered voters of a city must so petition before this question can go on the ballot.

Bridges Faces Revolt in CIO

LOS ANGELEES, Aug. 4—Growth of a coast-wide revolt within the CCIO against the labor dictatorship of Harry Bridges, western CIO chief, was learned exclusively by the Examiner today.

It also is a move to crush Communist party influence that has developed within the CIO on the Pacific Coast.

WILL QUIT COUNCIL

Leaders of five important CIO unions in southern California have been organizing the revolt movement in Los Angeles and now are ready to take an aggressive stand.

Within 24 hours, they expect to announce:

1. Withdrawal of their recognition of Harry Bridges as their western leader.

2. Withdrawal from the Bridges-controlled and dominated Industrial Union Council.

3. Refusal to send delegates to the state CIO convention, which Bridges has ordered to be held in Los Angeles August 20 and 21.

Nationally known southern California and state leaders of the United Rubber Workers of America and Automobile Workers of America, International Ladies Garment Workers Union and United Shoe Workers of America are leading the revolt. They have the support also of a portion of the membership of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee.

TO AVOID SPLIT

Interviewed by the Examiner, leaders of the labor revolt said emphatically that their action is not aimed against Bridges and that they intend no split from the CIO national organization.

"We are out to build a bigger and better CIO, but are not out to build up the Communist party," a state leader of one union said.

Another cited as an objective of his movement a careful CIO housecleaning to rid the labor body of any Red influence, or through Red political endorsement, that might be construed as supporting the national program of the Communist party in the United States.

CIO leaders supporting the revolt declare that Bridges has long had paralyzing personal domination over his office in SIO circles and thus has damaged the growing claim of the CIO of being a true organization.

Independent Congress Seen In Deal Setbacks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (INS)—New Deal setbacks in the Maryland and Virginia primaries were interpreted here today as Republican leaders set about forging a new and united program of action for the independent Congress of next winter.

The renomination of Senator Millard Tydings, New Deal critic, in Maryland and defeat of two outspoken New Dealers in Virginia congressional primaries were seen by conservative Democratic opponents of a third term for President Roosevelt.

Claire McCollister, Democratic Governor Herbert O'Conor's campaign manager, is generally a potential candidate for his party's presidential nomination in 1940. His overwhelming renomination, by a two-to-one margin in many counties, may make him a rallying point for mid-western Democrats.

In Virginia, Senators Carter Glass and Harry Byrd, who are pushing a conservative program of the New Deal, both oppose a third term for Mr. Roosevelt.

Their organization was generally credited with giving Rep. Howard W. Smith a smashing victory over William E. Dodd, Jr., New Dealer in the Virginia primary and with renominating ex-Rep. Clifton A. Woodrum, rated New Dealer in the second district.

The New Deal bloc of Democrats among the Virginia delegation in the present Congress numbers seven. The Smith and Dodd victories have put heart into conservatives planning to change that program.

Defeat of young Dodd, one of the former administration leaders in that state, was a personal blow to the President. They personally campaigned and made speeches for him.

Primary Rocks Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 4 (AP)—Tennessee voters packed ballots today for a United States senator, governor and public utilities commissioner in a bitterly contested primary devoid of outstanding political issues, but important as a leading ground for the powerful political factions.

Interest centered in the fight between National Democratic Committeeman E. H. Crump of Memphis and Governor Gordon Browning for supremacy within the party, caused observers to forecast a record vote of around 400,000.

Crump is head of the Shelby County (Memphis) organization and Browning is seeking renomination. Crump backed Browning two years ago when giving him approximately 60,000 votes but this year threw his support to Prentice Cooper, of Shelbyville, for the governorship.

Browning charged the effort would be made to stuff the ballot boxes in Memphis and said that week abandoned plans to send his personal guardsmen there. He joined with his opponent in asking a federal court injunction against such action.

Arrayed with Browning is Senator George L. Berry, seeking renomination, and Representative W. [illegible] Brown, seeking to succeed himself. Boston After Dark

By HENRY L. DAILY

Telephone Is Great Aid—Sometimes!

The telephone is a great institution. Sometimes it may work to your advantage and at other times just the opposite.—For example:

A federal prisoner, now on parole, makes a nightly call, costing at least $1.00, to a so-called boss leader in Boston. He is more than anxious to know whether or not the arm of John Law points to him as the one who stabbed the nephew of a big police official connected with the Boston Department. And he is getting the same answer every night, 'Nobody has cracked yet."

But some night, "Tony," when you are making your nightly call, you will in all probability find the long right arm of the federal authorities waiting outside of the telephone booth, with the polite invitation to spend a long vacation away from the bright lights of certain spots in dear old Boston. Sufficient.

HENRY L. DAILY

You will hardly believe this one—"Billy" Motley, chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners and an active person in city politics for over 20 years, having served as a city councillor for four, was never introduced to former mayor and Governor James M. Curley. Never spoke to him on any subject. We figured most everyone in Boston had, some time or other at least said hello to "Jim."

* * *

J. Burke Sullivan, assistant attorney general, sails for Europe shortly, with the state primaries only 40 days away. Mr. Sullivan, you will probably remember, was appointed assistant city corporation counsel under Curley, held over by former Mayor Mansfield, appointed chairman of the State Appellate Tax Board and also chairman of the Public Utilities Commission by Governor Hurley.

Looking Backwards:

"I suppose modern means of transportation in and around Boston is quite a revelation to you?" I querried of Charlie Burke, old timer of Jamaica Plain, the other day.

"It sure is," he replied, but quickly added they had buses operating within the city limits when he was a young fellow.

"When I was a boy they had the Parmalee, Hawthorne and Thompson coaches. They were horse drawn, of course, and plied between Northampton and Washington streets, to Charlestown. A branch line used to go over the old Harvard Bridge to Cambridge, as well.

"Then there was the 'Citizens' Line,' this being the only existing route to New York. Timothy Gay was the proprietor. He controlled as many as seven coaches, making daily trips.

"Tom Connolly had charge of the "Neck" Stable of the old horse car line. This was located between Northampton and Dudley streets. I have seen as many as 1500 horses sheltered there at one time. They used to change horses at this point, again at Bartlet street and at Circuit and Guild streets, just above, and also placed tow horses to draw the cars up over the hills on the way to Grove Hall, Roxbury.

Here and There:

John J. Craven, nephew of Public Commissioner Timilty, will be a candidate for the House from Ward 9. A reception to him is being planned for the evening of Aug. 12 at Knights of Columbus Hall, Roxbury—A candidate for Governor circulated his nomination papers among the employees of the city of Cambridge street department and failed to get one signature. He doesn't live far from the local state government. P. Gaffney Lane, colonel for Eire at Boston, is due for a promotion soon. He should get a higher post at Storrs as soon as the smoke of battle clears. After a month of serious illness at the Mercy Hospital, Miss Marion L. Parker, wife of the Suffolk county attorney of Middlesex County, has returned to her home in Way, and The D. A. was constantly at her bedside—Lee Marden of Dorchester, has the ring and Irving Rosenthal, also of Dorchester, is waiting for her to set the date. I'll tell you the answer Irving; it will be next June.

Samuel Summerfield, a brother of Hattie Summerfield Stern, and of Hugo, and the late Louis Summerfield, is dead in New York, according to word received by the family here. Burial will be in Detroit.

Relatives founded the Summerfield furniture stores, and Samuel Summerfield was associated with the stores outside of Boston.

BROTHER LEONARD

SALEM, Aug. 4. Funeral services for the Rev. Brother Leonard, 42, were held today at St. John Preparatory School Chapel, Danvers. In poor health for some time, Brother had gone to regain his health, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the Mission Church, Roxbury.

Father Fitzsimmons was former curate at the Mission Church, and he studied at its school. He had been a member of the Redemptorist order 18 years. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons of Roxbury and a brother, William, of Brookline.

REV. FITZSIMMONS

The funeral of the Rev. Joseph F. Fitzsimmons, C.S.S.R., who died at Mount Pocono, Penn., where he had gone to regain his health, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the Mission Church, Roxbury.

Father Fitzsimmons was former curate at the Mission Church, and he studied at its school. He had been a member of the Redemptorist order 18 years. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons of Roxbury and a brother, William, of Brookline.

Fr. Divine's New 'Heaven'

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Father Divine, the Harlem Negro Evangelist whose followers call him God, has been presented by them with a 50-room mansion on Madison Avenue, complete with private telephone system and a loud-speaker arrangement which will aquawk his frequent exhortations of "peace" throughout the house.

He will live there in comparative solitude with his 12 secretaries and his chosen disciples.

The Divine followers have been known locally for their shouts of Peace; it's wonderful." Of late however, this has been changed to a new cry.

"Peace! Ain't you glad?"

BEE STING KILLS

LEXINGTON, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—A single bees sting proved fatal to Svend Hansen, 42, Hansen, a laborer for Frank R. Phelps, poultry farmer, was doing on the back of the neck yesterday and died within 15 minutes.

Shirley's Hand Hurt

ily, to the Navy yard where [illegible] ley inspected the [illegible] tion. Of [illegible] sperg.

The injury to Shirley's fingers was suffered as the little star was about to climb into one of the two Temple family [illegible] outside the navy yard administration building.

Just who closed the door too soon couldn't be ascertained.

First concern of everybody at the question of how badly Shirley might be hurt.

THREE FINGERS HURT

Dr. Leo J. Madison, personal physician, who flew here from Hollywood when she was taken ill last week, examined the injured hand at once.

He said the tips of three fingers of her right hand were painfully bruised but the skin was not lacerated, and no bones are fractured.

By the time Shirley was back at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel she was smiling again and waved the uninjured hand gaily at a crowd of her ever-present admirers.

In the royal suite at the Ritz occupied by the Temples, Shirley's mother bathed the injured fingers in hot water and treated them with a healing salve.

Waiting, meanwhile, to have luncheon on the Ritz roof with Princess Carlotta were Mayor Tobin, Mrs. Tobin and the two Tobin daughters.

Expected also to be present at the luncheon was Governor and Mrs. Hurley and their children.

Shirley, Jr., and the party planned to leave Boston by train later in the afternoon.

During Shirley's brief visit she took the wheel of the launch boat Michael H. Crowley and got a seasmanlike course among the Bunker Hill monument.

Watchful guardians of Shirley's safety and comfort were sure one place she'd have privacy would be aboard Boston's [illegible] new police boat from which even reporters and cameramen were strictly barred.

SWIM TO HAIL HER

But one group of Shirley's admirers refused to be dodged.

A score of sunburned North End youngsters clad in the most abbreviated of bathing costumes swam out to the Michael H. Crowley, as it left the Harbor police station.

They waved and bare arms and shouted:

"Hi Shirley." "Hi, Curlytop." "Hello, there, Dimples."

Shirley always a good trooper consented to talk to police headquarters reporters over the two-way police radio.

She spoke into the [illegible] aboard the Michael H. Crowley and the boys in the headquarters pressroom put their questions to her and yelled down her answers.

"I bet you don't know something," she said. "I've been steering this boat."

"Like it better than the swan boats, do you, Shirley?" the boys in the pressroom wanted to know.

"Well," Shirley temporized like the diplomat she is, "I like 'em both—in different ways."

Coast Guard Marks 148th Anniversary

One hundred and forty-eight years ago today, August 4, 1790, under an act signed by President George Washington the United States Coast Guard came into existence.

It was the first revenue service of the young republic.

Weigh New Hedy Lamarr Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor International News Service

(Copyright, 1938)

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—No less than seven stories are knot on the griddle for Hedy Lamarr at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with the studio team between a costume drama and a modern yarn as her next.

Louella Parsons

But this I know for sure. Lola Montez, based on the life of the European dancer who was made a Countess by King Ludwig of Bavaria is the top choice.

Hedy wants very much to get away from the type of thing she has been doing and the studio feels that a change of scene will be beneficial to her future. Louise Rainer, for example, was panicky when Irene Dunne was picked for the role of Anna Held in "The Great Ziegfeld." Then Miss Rainer found herself with a part that was a gift and she walked away with the picture.

Constance Bennett, who has been making more comeback than seven stage stars have ever got away with, is set to co-star with Vincent Price in Hal Hayes' former Broadway success, "Accent on Youth."

Don't you envy a person who can say that Marie Wilson, as I do, knows all of whose career it was built from the coast before Marie got her feelers out? Of course, she enjoyed that. I've been thoughtful when a person—I don't care who it is—can say that Marie Wilson was a great help to her career. I don't care who knows it. Marie knows it. Now Mr. Lewis Milestone is going to direct Marie in "Not So Dumb," Constance Talmadge and Lyle Talbot will be in the picture. I'm glad it has the Wilson name in it. What with the appearance even that she created last month...

Last Minute Lucky Moment

Merlin of the movies, is wrestling around with the idea of casting our old pal bottle-beak Bill Fields in the title role of "Wizard of Oz." Trouble is that Bill is asking $1,000 for his particular brand of wizardry and Mervyn thinks that Bill's face is a trifle coal, not physical, for the make-up imposition of the Emerald Empire.

But Bill responds that everything is going up, including his blood pressure. And so the matter stands.

A LINE OR TWO: Peggy Wood, recently widowed by the tragic death of writer John V. A. Weaver is at her Stamford, Connecticut, home winding up the affairs of the estate. With this sad duty performed, she'll return to England and resume her place in the cast of Noel Coward's "Operetta." . . . Louise Brooks who tried to get glamour girl publicity about her famous legs, is starting all over again as a leading lady in a western with Lane Wayne.

Girl About Town by Marjorie McBride

A PICTURE of a crippled boy sailing a toy boat has an universal sentimental appeal, but the such picture appearing in the Boston Evening American on July 22, has brought practical results. A generous offer of a new and larger boat to be specific.

Marjorie McBride

The picture was that of Donald Cathey of Everett, sailing off his pond, but in the background on the pond in Franklin Park. It showed him leaning on a crutch to give the little craft a push.

Now through Arthur Combs of the Arthur Combs Company at 1061 Commonwealth avenue comes the offer of a boat for little Donald but he doesn't know the Huntington avenue address, and neither does the Boston Evening American.

Here is the letter written for Donald but still undelivered:

A few days ago I saw you picture in the paper sailing your boat. I also have one, much. When I was a boy of your age I used to make them.

A friend of mine saw you picture also. He bought a boat to my office and has asked me to give it to you. It is all shiny and varnished and it sails. It is real and would be fun for you to play with and sail.

I think maybe you would have a better one with it. So if you could come over, we'd send a car and driver out to your house to pick you up and then take you home again with the boat.

Will Donald or his parents or his friends get in touch with Mr. Combs or the American so that the new boat may be delivered?

SUMMER wouldn't be summer along the coast without popularity contests. I hope who thinks the annual crop isn't up to standard may rest assured. One of the swankiest in the East is underway this week at the Casino in Magnolia.

No customer can enter the place without being given a ballot by Sammy Fuller conductor of lady given a ballot by Sammy Fuller conductor of lady Newman's famous orchestra. Titles to be won are Prettiest Girl on the North Shore, Handsomest Man, Best Dressed Man and Most Vivacious Girl.

There hasn't been a contest in two years so there is a lot of interest in the outcome.

This year there will be a Best Dancer title awarded and practically every socialite on the North Shore is now practicing up.

ANYONE who expects to find Phil Baker the pug and accordion star co-starring in Boston Follies in Person this week is due for a disappointment.

Baker taking the part made famous by Alfred Lunt has had to use his comical brass and is playing the role as written.

He has a word to say about it, too.

"Lunt could have a time, but I'm not going to play an accordion than I had one in his pit."

Myopia Gymkhana Next Wednesday

By BETTY ALDEN

"HE WAS to the saddle born, we often hear people say of some accomplished equestrian . . . and the phrase certainly applies to the group of North Shore county children who take part in the gymkhana on horseback held every summer on the Myopia Polo Field, in Hamilton.

This year's gymkhana will be held next Wednesday, August 10, for the benefit of the Hamilton-Wenham Community House . . . and the program planned for the young contestants will give an excellent opportunity to display their horsemanship.

Charles G. Rice, 2nd, has graduated from the young rider group in which he was a leader several years ago, and is the manager of this year's gymkhana . . . He will have his hands full lining up the youngsters for the various jumping competitions, musical races, potato races and musical chairs, which is played with empty wood stools instead of chairs . . . An Open jump class which will play all afternoon is an innovation this year and will furnish the important feature for the musical events, instead of the usual family event.

Charles W. Cole, Jr., assistant secretary of the polo playing forces in selecting the various events and arranging the handicaps . . . Francis Ayer, Jr., president of Harvard polo team, Lorin Ayer and Quincy Ewing are helping him with arrangements for the program.

Youthful riders who have already entered their horses include Hilda and Neil Ayer, the twelve-year-old twins of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ayer, of Ledyard Farm, Hamilton . . . Also Anne Rice, ten-year-old sister of Charles 2nd, Nancy and Cynthia Burrage and Polly and Peter Starr, who will probably add to their already extensive collections of ribbons won at former gymkhanas.

Mothers and friends of the contestants will watch the proceedings from the row of improvised boxes which line one side of the field and may be obtaining their tickets from Anne Ayer, Hardy Rice and Betsy Chadbourne who are helping the boys out by selling enough tickets to assure a good sized audience.

Peter [illegible] Lowell, who is spending the summer on the Cape with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lowell, will join Polly Bunker, of Marion, for a motor trip to Canada early this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Linsford Weeks, of Chestnut street, have been visiting the Harry A. Lawrences at Holly Ledge, Cohasset.

The large number of Boston honeymooners in Bermuda includes Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Putnam, Jr. (Laura Wiggins), who are extending their stay there till the end of August . . . The couple was married at a fashionable June wedding in Dedham where they will make their home when they return.

MRS. BEAL AWAY

Mrs. Lillian D. Beal, of Boston and Nahant, is enjoying a visit in the White Mountains with Mrs. Willis Seaver Paine. They are at Bretton Woods.

YACHT CLUB OPENING

An outstanding event on the Cape will be the opening of the new yacht club in early September, with Fred Walker of Brookline and his sons, Fred and Rufus, serving as directors of the committee.

The dance will be held at the Casino, Magnolia, where Mr. and Mrs. James A. Amory, co-patrons of the affair, will preside over a table of [illegible] guests. Elizabeth McKean will be hostess to twelve friends and Mrs. F. Wadsworth Beck will also entertain an even dozen of intimate friends.

Entertainment at the party will include dancing, supper and a sparkling floor show presented by a trio of singers and dancers from Cole Porter's latest musical show.

Other prominent North Shore hostesses who will entertain friends at the dance include Mrs. Harold L. Chalifoux, Mrs. Leonard Ahl, Mrs. Robert F. Herrick Jr., Alice Burrage, Dorothy Preston, Ellen Moseley, Mrs. Edward L. MacNichols, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Mrs. Stephen Van R. Crosby, Mrs. Quincy Adams Shaw Jr., Mrs. Wesson Seybury, Mrs. John R. McGinley.

Newport Girls Will Attend Villa Wedding

Practically every one of the Newport "glamour girls" whose pictures you see in the Sunday roto pages, will be in Elena Villa's wedding party on August 20th when she becomes the bride of Robert Grant 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant Jr., of Long Island, and nephew of Mrs. J. Harleston Parker, of Boston.

The ceremony will take place at Fairholme, the Newport estate of Count and Countess Alfonso Villa, parents of the bride-to-be. Her sister, Consuela Villa, will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. H. Whitfield Carhart, Jr., Francesca Villa, Priscilla Grant, sister of the bridegroom, and the Misses Lesley Bogert, Lucy T. Saunders, Jane Pope, Virginia Middleton French, Aerielle F. Fraser and Le Brun Rhinelander.

Athertons Have Berkshire Guests

Mr. and Mrs. George Parkinson will be house guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Atherton, of Boston, at the Athertons' Berkshire home during the series of concerts in the Berkshire Symphonic Festival which begins tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Waters Jr. of Cohasset, will also be house guests of the Athertons.

CROCKERS IN N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. M. Crocker, of Boston, are in New York for a few days.

Toasts For Coming Nuptials

Many toasts will be proposed to the future happiness of Mary Louise Spaulding and Elliot Codman, at the whirl of parties preceding their wedding on August 18th at "Silver Shells," the Marion estate of Miss Spaulding's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Harwood.

On the eve of the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Harwood are giving an informal supper party at the Beverly Yacht Club, in Marion, for the bridal party and relatives of the couple and, just before the ceremony, the bridal party will be entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Sydney Harwood.

Miss Spaulding has planned a garden ceremony at "Silver Shells," which will take place at four-thirty. Following their honeymoon, the couple will live in Dover. Mr. Codman is the son of Mrs. Oliver Turner, of Boston.

Attendants at the wedding will include Mrs. Philip B. Taber, of Buffalo matron of honor, Mrs. Elisha P. Dodge, of Newburyport, and Mrs. Daniel S. Codman, of Dover, bridesmaids, and Sabra Harwood, sister of the bride, flower girl.

Three brothers of the bridegroom will take part in the ceremony: Alfred Codman Jr., best man, Daniel S. Codman, of Dover, and Samuel E. Codman, of Boston. The latter two head the usher corps which also include Henry Putnam, W. P. Graves, Herbert Sneath, of Boston, Henry Woodbridge, of Brookline, Dr. Austin Lamont, of Baltimore, William Wister, of Far Hills, N. J., John R. Harrison, of New York and Rev. Holland Beal, of Braintree.

Love Authority Speaks Out On:

Petting---Problem of the Generation

Do Co-eds Major in Petting?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Copyright, 1938, King Features Synd., Inc.

It's taken for granted that co-eds "pet."

(A co-ed is, of course a girl student at a college attended by both boys and girls).

But are co-eds, after all, more given to petting than girls whose boy friends are not so near at hand?

Suppose we look into this.

A co-ed lives in a sea of masculinity. All day long, youths of her own age are on the spot, to be heard, seen and, if you like flirted with.

Does this mean that she wallows in romance from morning until night? That she always has a string of dates a yard long? That she has to fight for the chance to open a book and prepare her lessons?

Well to tell the truth, it doesn't work out exactly that way. And if you've ever lived next door to a group of cousins of a different sex from your own, perhaps you'll see what I mean. Boys and girls both like a little mystery in each other. The boy student can't possibly regard the co-ed as mysterious. She isn't.

In spite of these drawbacks, a pretty, lively co-ed isn't forced to live an entirely man-less life. Usually she succeeds in getting herself dated up for a considerable share of her free time. And I think you can't blame her if she makes the most of these opportunities.

So, when she secures a good, promising date, she by no means takes the boy and his attentions for granted. She tries to make herself as charming and as companionable as she possibly can. Dance? Why, of course, if that's what he likes. She's rather proud of her dancing.

If the evening is a success, a tinge of romance creeps into it. Why, this is a grand girl, thinks the boy to himself. Would she let me make a little love to her? And he makes the attempt.

The co-ed who, under such conditions, wouldn't let herself be petted, would be more than human. Here's a boy whom she honestly likes, and who likes her, who evidently seems to feel a tenderness for her. Shall she let him think she's prudish squeamish, old-madish? Or shall she be gentle and responsive and a little cuddly? Shall she, in fact, agree to a petting-session? Which is just what she does.

As you see, there's a lot to be said for an exchange of kisses that comes about in this innocent, even idyllic way, and that owes nothing to alcohol or to boredom or to excessive frivolity.

Ten to one, two such young people as this will find, before long, they're in love with each other. Before long they'll be engaged, and the next thing you know they'll be married. And a co-ed marriage is usually a fine thing.

Maple Can Express Luxury

RUGGED and early American though its origin was, modern maple can combine superlative comfort and charm the ideal pair for any home, you'll admit.

Among the prize finds of the month, when the finest furniture yield of the country comes in for your inspection at very low prices, is this day bed and incidental table, part of a well-designed maple living room. Solid construction with every detail dedicated to comfort, the day bed completely disguises its purpose. The big, fat cushion resting against the maple arm was put there to show you the maple back rest, which supports the cushions. Which means that this day-bed needn't forever stand with its back against the wall! It may be placed where any other sofa would go. Contrasting striped and monotone upholstery is striking.

The two-tiered table is finished off with the smooth, worn edges that characterize old maple.

To learn the name of the shop which features this group, phone Annice Brink, Fashion Editor, LIberty 6000, week-days until five, or write her at the Boston American.

Correct Etiquette Blunders

Marjorie and Don, Mil and Charlie, these couples belong to different sets. You've only to watch their manners to know which is the right set!

Mil's all a twitter over Charlie—who doesn't know enough to get out of his car and stand when a girl stops to talk to him.

Marjorie's amused—for she's used to well bred men like Don, who removes his hat when he meets her on the street, keeps it off during their talk.

Such differences keep Mil and her crowd socially on the wrong side of the tracks. Avoid the blunders which are their trademarks.

At restaurants Mil and her friends flop down anywhere not noticing the chair the waiter pulls out. The men call the waiter "Here you" or some name funny to THEM.

On buses or street cars the girls hang around the entrance while the men pay the fares. They never seem to know who should get off first.

If they go in a foursome to a game they argue loudly about who should sit where.

You can always tell Marjorie's friends by their good breeding. At restaurants the girls smoothly seat themselves with the waiter's help. The men, when asking for service, call "Waiter."

In public vehicles, the girls let their escorts when less.

Without fuss, foursomes seat themselves at games or at the movies so the men are ONE and FOUR, the girls TWO and THREE.

Your own behavior can be as perfect. Get Lily Ann's new 40 page booklet, Etiquette for Every Day. Send for your copy today. Summer Dishes For Tuna Fans

By MARTHA LEE

America boasts of steak houses, fish grottos and hamburger palaces but the nation will dote at the first "tuna restaurant" in history at the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay.

Here are some recipes for dishes made with tuna that will probably be featured in the new "Tuna Restaurant."

BAKED TUNA FISH WITH CREAMED SAUCE

4 [illegible] butter 2 cups fish
4 [illegible] flour 1 cup grated cheese
[illegible] salt 4 pimientos
[illegible] pepper 1 cup milk
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce fish

Melt butter, stir in flour and seasonings and when well blended stir in milk gradually. Cook and stir over low heat until thick and smooth. Stir in cheese and continue cooking over low heat until melted. Cut pimiento into small pieces, reserving six or eight strips for garnishing, and add to white sauce. Flake tuna into 1-inch pieces and add to white sauce; pour mixture into greased casserole or baking dish. Arrange pimiento strips on top for garnish and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 15 minutes.

TUNA-AVOCADO COCKTAIL

1 7-oz. can tuna fish
2 stalks asparagus
1 large avocado
1 cup Thousand Island dressing

Break tuna slightly with a fork. Mix with dressing. Place asparagus stalks in cocktail glasses alternately with slices of avocado. Place tuna and dressing in center. Serve very cold.

TOASTED TUNA SANDWICHES

1 7-oz. can tuna fish
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne
1 tablespoon lemon juice
8 slices toasted
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons anchovy paste
8 ripe olives
2 dill pickles
½ head lettuce
3 large tomato

Mix tuna, mayonnaise, salt cayenne, and lemon juice. Cream butter and anchovy paste and spread on toast. Add tuna mixture to half the toast slices, cover with remaining slices, garnish with lettuce, slices of tomato, sliced pickles and olives.

"Please accept my sincere congratulations on your 'Streamlined Financial Statements.' [illegible] being the nail squarely on the head and drive it down clearly home to the wood."

From [illegible] Vice President, [illegible]:

"The booklet which you prepared on Streamlined Financial Statements is a very impressive piece of work.

In showing what a modest return capital obtains for the risks it assumes, I cannot help but feel that you are promoting better public relations and a fairer understanding between the various groups."

From C. D. Pearne, [illegible] of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, Cleveland:

"I have found very interesting the pamphlet 'Streamlined Financial Statements' sent to me with your letter of July 19, concerning the simplification of annual reports. Along this line the Chesapeake and Ohio issues a condensed report of the operation and affairs of the property during the year which is sent to all stockholders, the detailed report being furnished upon request."

From [illegible] President, The Lyon Metal Products Company:

"Thank you for your letter of July 19th and the pamphlet attached thereto. We agree with your conclusions relative to simplification of corporate data issued to the public by corporation managers."

From [illegible] Vice President, [illegible]:

"Mr. Knudsen was interested in yours of the 19th together with your comprehensive booklet 'Streamlined Financial Reports,' and has asked us to review some of the activities along this line that have been under way in General Motors."

Sharp Rise Forecast for Carloadings

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

[illegible] that has taken place since 1929 is forecast for the third quarter of this year. For the period the Shipping Boards estimate [illegible] will drop 19.6 per cent from the same period last year.

By reversing the process and obtaining the number of actual cars and then comparing the total for the third with the second quarter we find that an increase of 14.5 per cent is indicated. The boards for the second quarter [illegible] expanding industry [illegible] freed of working inventories and with specific [illegible] in the next [illegible] would not anticipate [illegible] the jump in carloadings [illegible] the boards.

NOTHING CHANGED

Nothing has changed in the stock market scene in recent sessions. Prices are still wandering weakly from the upside to the downside. Neither buyers nor sellers can attract a following. And, without a change in the complexion of the news, as they likely to be successful. The golds are an ideal case in point. The moment news of the hoarding demand in London was received from abroad [illegible] Before that figures had been read [illegible]

Austen Lake Says:

The Umpire Speaks: Profile of Mr. Klem

MR. BILL KLEM, THE OLD BASEBALL UMPIRE who is rounding out 34 years in the National League, had his daily epsom salts bath this morning. Mr. Klem takes his baths hot and lets himself soak in the fizzing solution until he is the hue of a ripe tomato. Then Mr. Klem rolls himself up in layers of heavy blanket and slowly melts away from himself. Sometimes, but not always, when he is sufficiently broiled he spanks himself briskly on his more lumpy portions and plays some lovely renditions up and down his nude legs. He claims this is the secret of his youth and why in his entire career he has never made a wrong decision.

AUSTEN LAKE

There are, of course, many ball players who insist that Mr. Klem has frequently erred in matters of visual judgment. In fact, so recently as last week the Brooklyns made a terrific to-do over one of his jedgements and prompted a few pop bottles to be fired at Mr. Klem.

But this morning he said an umpire's life nowadays was a mid-summer day-dream compared with the contumnly and reproach hurled in the ribald, uncouth time of a baseball generation ago. "Why an umpire used to be a pariah," said Mr. Klem who likes to roll a good word on his tongue. "We registered under assumed names and crept down back-alleys by the light of the moon. In fact we were on a social plane with the state electricians who throw the switch on condemned prisoners."

The times have changed, said Mr. Klem, and no longer do umpires stow away on trains lest they be recognized and assaulted by word and hand. No longer do they live in suburban hotels remote from the players in lavish tourist palaces. Now they expose themselves freely, leave the ball parks openly and dine with their fellow citizens on a perfect parity. "The public has been educated to respect the umpire," said Mr. Klem. "We have been admitted to social equality with the ball players."

MR. KLEM MUST BE RISING SIXTY NOW, a thickish little man with a brooding blue eye and a way of thrusting out his lower lip. But it is his voice you notice most, sometimes a soothing whisper and sometimes an operatic bellow. For he trained his voice, he says, by going off in the woods in his youth and hollering and yelling for hours at a time to develop his larynx. Even now Mr. Klem can, and does, outshout any ball player.

"I take great credit," said Mr. Klem, as he simmered gently beneath his blankets, "for raising the condition of the umpiring profession. I was the first stickler for dignity. In my early day it was a custom to discipline the ball player by being a little harsher in word and deed. The old umpires ruled by fear and, having to deal with some pretty cantankerous types, perfected a very tough technique. I seldom bandied words. I merely hooked my thumb in the air and invited the offensive athlete or manager, as the case might be, to leave the premises."

Mr. Klem did many more things to ennoble the umpiring profession from a st to of mouth drudgery to something majestic. He invented the elaborate gesture of flattening the palms to the ground in a quivering motion to indicate that a base runner is safe on the front theory being that with extended thumb he was one and a half inches out. "Aaaa," said Mr. Klem. "Say it with a gesture. It's got more class. It's got a stretch."

Among other things Mr. Klem originated the standard eye system of umpiring at first base. Prior to the old days the umpire stationed himself to one side or behind the base and attempted to judge plays by ear of vision whether the ball touched the base ahead of the runner's foot or touched the bag. Mr. Klem first devised the system of standing in front of the bag and watching the runner's foot while listening for the spat of the ball on the baseman's glove. "That's all the secret there is to it," he said.

THE OLD BREED OF RAMBUNCTIOUS managers like George Stallings, John McGraw, Frank Chance and others have given place to more placid types like Bill McKechnie, Pie Traynor, Casey Stengel, Gabby Hartnett and Bill Terry. . . . "Did you say Terry?" I asked in mild surprise

"Yes, Terry," said Mr. Klem. "He is a very reasonable man. The managers have simplified an umpire's job. Now they are less infuriating. Why, compared with McGraw they are as gentle zephyrs to a Florida hurricane. McGraw made a life study of insults and always started off the ball game with some slur or other. In those days the umpires used to have to go to the dugouts to get the pregame batting order and it was always a running fire of vituperation I had that changed, too. Now the captains bring the lists to the plate."

As to how he got the nickname "Catfish," a sobriquet that is very distasteful to Mr. Klem's ear, he was reticent at first. Even to this day ball players know they cannot call Mr. Klem "Catfish" and hope to remain in the ball field. A lot of people think John McGraw hung that one on him.

"McGraw had nothing to do with it," said Mr. Klem in basso profunda, "I came into the National League in 1905 with that name. Derby Day Bill Climber, rest his ornery soul, gave it to me; I fired him out of three ball games hand running, and he got sore. So he said I looked like a catfish and the name stuck, though personally I think I am a very handsome gentleman and I resent that name as a pernicious piece of impudence."

Mr. Klem by this time had completed his perspiration and the rubbed patting out "My Wild Irish Rose" on his naked shank with the flourish and rhythm of a shoe rag in the hands of an artist. He was black. He attired himself neatly in a robin-egg blue jacket with pea lavender pants to match. He set his panama at a rakish angle. "I am off to work," said Mr. Klem.

Stripp's Debut Makes B's Happy

Garms Plays Well in Field

By WALTER KILEY

Joe Stripp's debut as a member of the official Bees' family augurs well for his future in Boston.

In the several ways anything can happen on baseball diamonds, during the new teammates dropped a pair of a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates the extent of their performances were outstanding.

He displayed both at bat and at third base and backed up Manager Jimmy Sturgeon's assertion that he had offensive power and defensive ability when most needed.

It was the latter manifestation that Stripp never did get a chance to show during any of the several occasions when the bases were clogged.

For the newcomer turned in a .500 batting average in eight times at the plate three safeties and a double while several other efforts were soundly sparked.

QUINN OPTIMISTIC

He looks the part of an experienced hitter with the power to send the ball for extra bases, a lack of which has cost the Swarm many a ball game this season.

Joe Stripp

There is a question to his field ing, however. He appears the poorest of any of the third basemen the Bees have experimented with in recent years as a fast arm and a quick throw across the diamond.

"He'll help us plenty," says Bob Quinn, club president. "Stripp has been sometimes hard to handle in the past," he continues, "but we've had him playing for us before and I know we'll meet with little trouble. We're not the least bit worried over him."

Pete Garms reported to Stripp seems to have benefited the event tendrils. He has played a fielded a post on be fairly well with the St. Louis Browns but it appears that this is better opportunity.

Garms speed also aided him in getting under way and stole two and he showed himself a sure pitcher. He looks for more place for real natural in left field than he did at third.

Just how Manager Sturgeon will juggle his fielders remains to be seen. He is anxious to keep Garms in the regular lineup for the value of his hitting. He is likewise anxious of starting Jimmy Wasdell as he believes the big youngster has the making of a heavy hitter.

As a matter of fact, Wasdell has been hitting the ball for plenty of distance in the game after another. He looks for more place for real natural in left field than he did at third.

Just how Manager Sturgeon will juggle his fielders remains to be seen. He is anxious to keep Garms in the regular lineup for the value of his hitting. He is likewise anxious of starting Jimmy Wasdell as he believes the big youngster has the making of a heavy hitter.

As a matter of fact, Wasdell has been hitting the ball for plenty of distance in the game after another. He looks for more place for real natural in left field than he did at third.

He lofted one to the left center field wall to score a pair of first game runs and connected for a couple of second game wallops which would have been homers most anywhere else but which were put-outs at the Beehive.

DANNY SEEKS 10TH

Today Deacon Danny MacFayden now rated one of the league's best pitchers, goes in search of his tenth victory of the season.

MacFayden has won his last two starts, his 10 win over the Reds and 3-2 win over the Cards in his last two appearances, by going on pitching masterpieces.

A victory for Somnambulant Danny today will mean a split series with the Pirates, the latter club today meeting Lon Warneke and Dizzy Dean as they attempt to further cement their hold on first place.

He Throws Mothballs

Danny MacFayden, Bees' stylish veteran, who goes after tenth victory this afternoon against Bucs. Danny has lost only three games this year. Joe McCarthy couldn't see him when he was with the Yanks, but Bill McKechnie and Casey Stengel think he's the tops.

Sox Bank On Grove For Lift

CLEVELAND Aug. 4 The Red Sox are still full of fight as they demonstrated against the Indians before 2,000 last week customers.

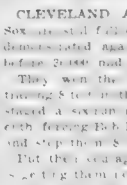
They won the first game and the ng 8 to 4 in the eighth when stacked a six-run rally in the seventh forcing Bob Feller to jump and step them 8 to 6.

But that courage said to have ... getting them nowhere.

They left home only 2 ... games out of first place. Now they are six games back of the Yankees and four games in the rear of the second-place Indians.

Whether they'll close either gap to any extent before returning to the Fens hinges largely on what happens the re mainder of the week.

If Mose Grove returning to action for the first time since his 38-years-d arm went dead three weeks ago can stop the Indians in the final game this P. M. and the rest of the gang can follow up by gaining the edge in next series with the Tigers which will be played while the Yanks are here, the Circus may get back in the running.



Jack Wilson

Otherwise, they appear doomed to be out of the race by the time they get back to Boston.

The Wednesday doubleheader was featured by the gilt edge pitching of Jack Wilson and Ed Ostermueller who combined to ... Mel Harder, 4 to 3, and the box

6	Quick Lass	56	G. Lippold, Jr.	6-1
8	Roundabout	63	Cedar Pt. Ken.	8-1
6	Dodge Truck	65½ch.	Dahlberg	8-1

PAT ISBELL had trouble to its last but with clear sailing figures best here. TEXAS SIDEWINDER can make it a race. MUTTON BOY should be in the money.

SECOND RACE—FUTURITY
Last Half Daily Double

HOLLOW HEAD, RED TODDY, TIP OVER

2	Hollow Head	56	Pat Conway	3-1
1	Red Toddy	55½	F. B. Mate	4-1
4	Tip Over	60	Cedar Pt. Ken.	5-1
6	Bet a Lady	51	L. Kirkpatrick	5-1
8	Kid Evans	64	M. T. Dubiel	6-1
3	Dealer Officer	63	J. Highhouse	6-1
5	Bazzle Cutter	72	O. and B. Ken.	6-1
7	Ocean Sandcastle	53	G. Lippold, Jr.	8-1

HOLLOW HEAD should outbreak the pup on the inside tonight and win all the way. RED TODDY could take it all. TIP OVER is a serious threat.

THIRD RACE—5-16THS MILE
JUST A FIRE II, DADDY MARE, SNOWDIE

3	Just A Fire II	59	O. H. Rogers	3-1
1	Daffy Mare	55	Parke Spencer	4-1
5	Snowdie	61	Robert Bryant	5-1
6	Pretty Lady	51	L. Kirkpatrick	5-1
8	Pretty Patricia	56	Art Wilson	5-1
4	Wally K.	66	Homer Bagwell	6-1
6	Miss Delta	46	F. B. Mate	6-1
4	Milton Lodge	66½	Pat Conway	8-1
7	Clifton's Mate	67	O. and B. Ken.	8-1

JUST A FIRE II is nicely spotted here and should score, though DAFFY MARE is running well, SNOWDIE figures in the money.

FOURTH RACE—FUTURITY
LENA LEE, CONNIE MACK, DUSTY WAR

1	Lena Lee	58	Art Wilson	3-1
2	Connie Mack	66	J. Highhouse	4-1
6	Dusty War	60	Fred Nixon	5-1
4	Mickey's Friend	67	M. T. Dubiel	5-1
5	Odessa Boy	60	J. L. Ayotte	6-1
8	Stick	61½	W. L. Bryant	6-1
7	Thady Quill	61	W. R. Mott	8-1
3	Meanderville	63	F. Palermo	8-1

Art Wilson's hound has the advantage on the inside and should score, with CONNIE MACK in closest attendance throughout. DUSTY WAR can be in the money.

FIFTH RACE—5-16THS MILE
TARZAN BREEZE, BEN LARK, BRIGHT BRAVER

1	Tarzan Breeze	60	Fred Palermo	3-1
2	Ben Lark	68	K. Stephenson	4-1
3	Bright Beaver	64	Tom Baird	5-1
5	Dooring	61½	W. L. Bryant	6-1
6	Creek Cap	57	F. L. Brooks	6-1
4	Dana Bisco	59½	Dan Sullivan	6-1
7	Rax	66½	Robert Bryant	8-1
8	Ramona Breeze	60	G. Lippold, Jr.	8-1

TARZAN BREEZE runs well on the rail and, having the red blanket, should top this field. BEN LARK will be dangerous. BRIGHT BRAVER is an upset possibility.

SIXTH RACE—FUTURITY
SILVER LENSE, LATTO HARE, PUBLIC ENEMY

2	Silver Lens	55	G. Lippold, Jr.	3-1
1	Latto Hare	60	Parke Spencer	4-1
5	Public Enemy	72	Dow Bernard	5-1
6	Joe Boy	71	M. J. Gavan	5-1
4	Squarehead	67	W. R. Mott	6-1
7	Guest Artist	61½	M. C. Sparks	8-1
3	Andrew Meadows	66	O. and B. Rex	8-1
8	Jane's Laddie	66	Homer Bagwell	8-1

SILVER LENSE, lowered from the hot box, figures to score all the way here. LATTO HARE, second foal of the rest with PUBLIC ENEMY showing enough improvement to be in the money.

SEVENTH RACE—5-16THS MILE
THELMA H, MY MUGGER, ALICE GLENN

1	Thelma H	55	Jess Williams	3-1
3	My Mugger	65	J. L. Ayotte	4-1
4	Alice Glenn	60½	J. Highhouse	5-1
7	Sepoy	58	O. H. Wahlauf	5-1
5	Daffy Bell	62	F. B. Mate	6-1
6	Andrea	56	Homer Bagwell	6-1
2	Medulla	59	K. Stephenson	8-1
8	Patsy Red	58	F. J. Brooks	8-1

THELMA H favored in the draw, figures to outscore this band, but by no great margin for MY MUGGER will always be dangerous. ALICE GLENN should be in the money.

EIGHTH RACE—FUTURITY
CAUTO BAIL, MUTTON BROTH, CRUISER CARSON

3	Cauto Bail	67	M. C. Sparks	3-1
4	Mutton Broth	60	J. L. Ayotte	4-1
2	Cruiser Carson	63	C. A. Rhodes	5-1
5	Princess Reverse	52	G. Lippold, Jr.	5-1
8	The Tangler	66	M. J. Gavan	6-1
6	Miss Bailey	50	O. and B. Rex	6-1
7	Irish Grin	58	Frank Lane	8-1
8	Alla Pane	59	O. H. Wahlauf	8-1

CAUTO BAIL, winner of its last and second to Rural Lover in the Derby, figures pretty much the best here. MUTTON BROTH, if it decides to break, can make it close. CRUISER CARSON might take it all.

NINTH RACE—5-16THS MILE
RIP TERROR, ANDREW'S HOPE, BUCK TRAWLER

5	Rip Terror	53	M. C. Sparks	3-1
6	Andrew's Hope	56	O. and B. Rex.	4-1
8	Buck Trawler	54½	Pat Conway	5-1
4	Lucille Larry	60	G. Lippold, Jr.	5-1
2	Robert Ripley	66	W. L. Bryant	6-1
7	Too Tone	54	Paul Rouse	6-1
3	Jack's Nell	54	A. T. Smart	8-1
1	Troy Actor	64	Parke Spencer	8-1

RIP TERROR limited at the break last out, with any luck tonight, is figured best here. ANDREW'S HOPE should go the closing with BUCK TRAWLER an upset possibility.

TENTH RACE—5-16THS MILE
BRUISER, ROSALEE, MOORE, SNOWDOWN

1	Bruiser	64	Cedar Pt. Ken.	3-1
3	Rosalee Moore	55	Homer Bagwell	4-1
6	Snowdown	54	F. L. Brooks	5-1
7	Josephine Glee	50	O. Dahlberg	5-1
2	Just Chinita	53½	W. L. Bryant	6-1
5	Top Traffic	47	Frank Lane	6-1
4	Speedy Lad	59	F. Rhine	8-1
8	Ben's Shadow	60½	M. J. Gavan	8-1

Though moving up BRUISER was an unpromising 4th last out as to appear best here. ROSALEE MOORE, if it breaks, will make it interesting. SNOWDOWN should be in the money.

GABBY LIFTS BEER BAN

According to Francis Shenk, Bert Nichols and Ed Murphy, the Belmont Country Club course will be in prime condition for the Harry Cooper-Horton Smith vs. Lawson Little-Jimmy Thomson exhibition match August 28. Like all New England courses, Belmont took a beating during the recent rain storms . . . The Red Sox must buck up immediately if they are to remain in the race . . . One bad inning in each game cost the Bees the mid-week double header with the Pirates . . . Abe Mitchell, formerly of Belmont and Charles River, who winters at Pinehurst, is now affiliated with the Pelsway Driving Range . . . Joe Krakauskas, the rookie southpaw with the Nats, will take out his first papers upon his return to Washington. He was born in Hamilton, Ont., and didn't play baseball until he was 18 years of age . . . Patsy Clark, coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers professional football team, has purchased Jim Steen's contract from the Syracuse club. Steen is a Brooklynite . . . And, while on the subject of Flatbush, there are no less than seven ex-Dodgers with the Bees . . .

Count 'em, Casey Stengel, Tony Cuccinello, Al Lopez, Bobby Reis, Johnny Cooney, Joe Stripp and Gene Moore . . . Joe Pardy who is in the pro shop at Belmont, has entered the New Hampshire open championship, which will be played at the Hanover C. C. August 16 . . . Gabby Hartnett, who will be at National League Field with his Chicago Cubs on Saturday, rarely forgets a face or a name. Under Hartnett, the ban on drinking beer at night has been lifted . . . in any other ball park in the country, Max West would have been credited with two home runs yesterday. At National League field his efforts were nothing more than flies to the Wanners . . . Mush March, the scrappy little Chicago Black Hawk right winger, is the golf pro at the Valparaiso (Ind.) Country Club . . . The United States Lawn Tennis Association paid Helen Wills Moody's expenses abroad this year, with the understanding that she would play in the National championships at Forest Hills . . . University of Southern California will play Illinois at hockey in Champaign this winter . . . There'll be a packed house at the East Weymouth G. A. R. Hall tomorrow night for the Sons of Italy sport night . . . Jack Onslow will be the M. C. —GRIMES.

Cooper, Smith, Little, Thomson | Greatest Golf Show of Season

By JACK CONWAY

HARRY COOPER and Horton Smith against Lawson Little and Jimmy Thomson in an 18-hole exhibition match at the Belmont Country Club on Sunday, August 28, for the benefit of the Christmas Basket Fund of the Boston Evening American-Sunday Advertiser!

Mr. Boston

It is the star golf attraction of the season. It should furnish brilliant golf, and draw one of the largest galleries to ever witness a golf match in New England.

It was only through the splendid co-operation of Colonel William J. Keville, president of the Belmont Country Club, and of Charlie Draper, Ted Babcock, Herman Spain, Francis Shenk and Bert Nichols that it was possible to make final arrangements for this stellar golf offering.

Bill Grimes, Golf Editor of the Boston Evening American-Sunday Advertiser, will act as chairman of the committee that will have charge of making the arrangements for the big show. Bill knows Harry Cooper, Horton Smith, Lawson Little and Jimmy Thomson personally, and will have everything in readiness at Belmont so that these headliners will be able to show at their best.

It was two years ago that Grimes showed Lawson Little and Jimmy Thomson against Francis Ouimet and Jesse Guilford in a match for the Christmas Basket Fund. That affair was witnessed by one of the largest galleries to attend a golf match in the history of the ancient game.

Golf has been enjoying a very successful season at Greater Boston clubs. Memberships have been on the increase, while there have been thousands of visiting golfers at the various courses.

I would suggest that Greater Boston golfers drop in at Belmont and play a few rounds of golf so that they will appreciate the obstacles that Cooper, Smith, Little and Thomson will be obliged to overcome when they collide in their exhibition match on August 28.

The leading golfers have displayed a fine interest in the Christmas Basket Fund. Every cent that is raised at the match at the Belmont Golf Club will go to the Basket Fund.

Cooper, Smith, Little and Thomson even insist upon paying their own expenses to Boston so that the poor and unfortunate may derive 100 per cent in dividends from their efforts. True champions every one of them!

McCoy Rules Slight Favorite

I TALKED WITH Al McCoy, New England heavyweight champion, on the long distance telephone from Montreal. McCoy will clash with Harry Thomas of Chicago in a ten-round bout in the Canadian city tonight.

"I am in good condition, and believe I shall defeat Thomas," said McCoy. "I am weighing around 180 pounds, and I shall be faster at this notch than when I scale 186 pounds.

"I realize I need continual ring action to keep me at my best. Tonight's bout will be my fourth start in two months, and as a result my timing and wind should be all right."

Greyhound Races Again Tomorrow

PAUL BOWSER informs me the Greyhound will race at the Grand Circuit meeting again tomorrow. This will give New England fans another opportunity to see this priceless wonder horse in action. I saw Greyhound win "The American" stakes in straight heats last Friday, and was amazed by his remarkable trotting ability.

The Greyhound originally cost only $900 and since getting into the money has won $73,000 in purses. The Greyhound has won 24 out of 26 starts which is a remarkable record for consistency. This is why there was not any betting when the Greyhound ran at Agawam last week. If there had been betting, the association would have ended up with a minus pool, especially on the place and show betting.

After seeing Greyhound win last week, in the company of Sergeant Eddie Mack I dropped down to the stable where they keep the grey ghost. He was warming up at the time, and he was as gentle as a kitten. Greyhound's attendants told me the great horse does not appear to possess nerves, while he gets his greatest thrill out of competition.

The Grand Circuit meeting has been successful. It will come to a close on Saturday, and is expected to continue to draw large crowds. The appearance of the Greyhound on the up-State track tomorrow afternoon assures a large turnout of persons who like to see a champion of the turf in action.

SIX-HITTER FOR BUCK

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4 (INS)—Buck Newsom hurled six-hit ball as the Browns mowed down the Washington Senators, 5 to 3.

Veterans Class for Women

The Longwood Cricket Club tennis fathers are staging something entirely different and novel as part of the national doubles tennis show the week of August 20.

In fact they're putting the "old gals" right on the spot, with the addition of a Women's Veterans class to the competition which already includes the men's and women's doubles, mixed doubles, father and son doubles and men's veterans.

So those "girls" who want to play in the veteran division must 'fess up that they're 45 or over, and the sponsor of the new title event is wondering how in Heaven's name she's going to get any of the nation's women to own up to that many winters.

Eleonora Sears

Mrs. George W. Wightman, many, many times national champion in singles and doubles, will be one of those who will honestly declare herself and participate.

But it's different with this lovely member of tennis royalty. For her past performances are right there in the record books for everyone to read. And dating back as they do to the post-war era and before, Mrs. Wightman will prove she can take it and, as a matter of fact, she should win the title.

As for the other "gals" well, it's not so good. Of course there's Mrs ..... and Mrs ..... and Eleonora Sears and Mrs. ..... and Miss ....., that should be eligible. But the committee is afraid that if some of them are asked, unblinkingly they'd state their ages as just 29 come Michaelmass.

O'Mahoney Defeats Germaine on Foul

Art O'Mahoney, Irish middleweight champion, won over Ted Germaine two straight falls on fouls in the mid-week wrestling feature at Boston Arena.

Sailor Adams, U. S. navy, defeated Dan Cady, 17:07, body press; Harry Finklestein vs. Ike Goldberg, 20 minute draw; Red Gale vs. Masked Marvel, 20 minute draw; Chippewa Charley vs. Tony Papalino, 20 minute draw; Art Grennon vs. Al Cadell, 20 minute draw.

Trying to Fool Jimmy

(International News Photograph Service)

Shining new car for Averill and a hit-proof hat for Jimmy Foxx were the samples handed out by Cleveland fans yesterday during the Red Sox-Indian contest. But Jimmy fooled the local delegation getting his usual quota of bingles and proved to the Mid-Western baseball bugs that all pitchers and bats are alike to him.

Racers Average $2036 at Spa

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP) — With some of the briskest and heaviest trading in years already on the books, the annual Saratoga sales headed for a banner business today after last night's auction, in which 63 yearlings, a record number, sold for $128,276, an average of $2036.

Top price was $13,000, paid by Don Cameron of California for a brown son of Blue Larkspur-Speed Boat by Man o' War, owned by H. B. Scott. Second highest price was paid by Louis Feustel, former trainer of Man o' War. Feustel went to $12,100 for a chestnut filly by Man o' War out of Shady. Two other purchases brought his total to $29,100.

Yearlings from the barns of the Morven Stud, R. A. Fairbanks, the Nydrie Stud, Charlton Clay, W. S. Threlkeld and Warner L. Jones will be under the hammer tonight.

Sox Bank On Grove For Lift

bow of Bill Harris and Joe Heving as Sox in the nightcap.

Wilson, turning in his fourth win over the Indians and tenth triumph of the season, gave only four hits in seven innings.

The Indians did their darndest to disconcert him. They protested the sleeves of his undershirt were flapping. Twice the "Umps" made him change garments.

But unlike Indian Johnny Allen, who took a $250 walk when the sox complained about his shirt in Boston, Wilson refused to blow up.

In the eighth, however, errors put the "Strong Boy" in a hole from which he had to be saved by "Osty." "Fritz" walked the first batter to face him and then set the next five Redskins down in order to end the game.

Pape Harris, who didn't get in from Buffalo until noon, was called upon to start the second game. He lasted but four innings, during which he was found for seven hits and six runs.

Heving was unwrapped in the seventh, after Rogers had thrown three straight balls to Hemsley, first up.

The ex-Indian threw three strikes to fan the batter. He went on to retire his old mates scoreless in the frame and then gave way to a pinch hitter.

Collins Follows Deacon

By WALTER KILEY

Debs Garms of the Bees answers to one of the oddest "given" names in baseball.

His dad, a Texan, named him after Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for the presidency in 1912, later imprisoned for "treacherous" preaching against the Big War and not pardoned until long after the war was finished.

Garms, Sr., thought he was paying Garms, Jr., a big honor in so naming him, the elder being one of Debs' greatest admirers. But the Red-man would have none of the fancy stuff when he named his own recently born son last week.

"Plain David Charles is good enough for our youngster," he says.

Gabby Hartnett wires that he will not pitch Dizzy Dean during the series in New York. Which means that he will, in all probability, pitch one of Sunday's double-header games.

Eddie Collins, Red Sox general-issimo, follows Danny MacFayden's pitching fortunes with the keenest of interest, seeing that he took his last turn at bat and made the last hit of his career off the "Deacon."

"The Red Sox and Athletics were playing in 1930," Eddie tells. "I hit a fine drive which caromed off Danny's shins. I thought I had maimed him. But he got up and raced over towards third after the ball, only to collide with the Sox' third baseman. They both crashed. But neither was hurt and I had my hit, which, being the last one, was one of the highlights of my long career in the game."

Joe Stripp thought he was getting away from that awful St. Louis heat when he got the chance to come to Boston. But he got a touch of heat in his debut here which was the equal of any he experienced in the Mid-West area.

It's a matter of argument whether Jim Turner hit a pitching slump or whether the National League batters have got to know his offerings. Certain it is that something is wrong and the "milkman" is among those most bewildered.

He's gone down in five straight games and the enemy is hitting him hard in one game after another, much in contrast to a year ago when his earned run average was astounding.

$65,000

For Soccer Player

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Bryn Jones, Welsh international inside forward of Wolverhampton Wanderers today was sold to Arsenal for a world record price for a soccer player.

Arsenal, a London club paid £13,600 (65,000). The previous record was £10,890 ($54,450), paid by Arsenal to Bolton Wanderers in 1928 for David Jack.

Mrs. Thompson In 21-2-Mile Swim

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (INS)—Accompanied by her aviator husband, Mrs. Katherine Rawls Thompson, ace speed swimmer, was in New York today after a trip from the West Coast, ready to train for a 2½-mile Marathon swimming event in which she will compete at Rye, N. Y., August 13.

The race, which she is favored to win over a large field of entrants, will mark her first attempt to compete in an event of more than one mile.

Sarron to Meet Yucatan Kid

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 4 (INS)—The Yucatan Kid, Southern lightweight champion and winner of 17 of his last 18 starts, has signed to fight Petey Sarron, former lightweight champion, in the feature event of the annual Washington (D. C.) police benefit show on October 3, Captain W. H. Peeples, manager of the Kid, announced today.

Greyhound In $3100 Event

AGAWAM PARK, Aug. 4—Greyhound, the Galloping Grey Ghost, goes again tomorrow in The National Stake all age trot for a purse of $3100 in the best two out of three heats.

The Silver Express went through the entry box this morning with Rosalind, Clumette Evelyn, Clever Hanover and Ed Lasater. Greyhound meets the old acid test tomorrow when he faces this sterling field. Last Friday he had to give his best to win the nod.

The remainder of the card is a sterling one. Alma Shephard, 12-year-old famous sulky racer and exhibitor, will drive Dean Hanover in an exhibition mile against time. This is the horse she drove when she broke the world's record for three-year-olds in 1:58½ at Lexington, Ky., last Fall.

GORDON'S HOMER DOES IT

DETROIT, Aug. 4 (INS)—With Joe Gordon's 11th inning homer the spearhead of a three-run rally, the New York Yankees turned back the Tigers, 10 to 7.

St. Augustines Encounter Roslindale

The St. Augustine nine of South Boston, which gained the Boston Par League semi-finals last night by taking the Hyde Park Tribunes in the odd game, will open the penultimate round tonight at the South Boston stadium against the Roslindale Town Club.

The Townies, by taking the Madden two straight in the preliminary series had the advantage of a night's rest before their big test and the series. The teams will go to Healy Park Friday and then alternate on successive nights until the series is completed.

On the other side of the ledger a great battle is being waged between the Brighton Civics and the Roslindale Holy Name for the right to meet the Mass. Knitting in the semifinal round. The Civics took the opener Monday at Rogers, 4-2, with Bobby Rich tossing a four-hitter.

The Holy Namers came back on their home grounds at Fallon Tuesday behind stellar hurling of Curt Fullerton to blank Charley Coffey's nine, 6-0.

However, tonight's game at Fallon Field will tell the story, with neither Fullerton or Rich due to figure. In that case Johnny Delang of the Holy Name will use either Petrone or Sharpe for his pitcher, while the Civics will string their hopes on Barney Pallis.

Ormsby

Puzzles Doctors

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Physicians planned a consultation today to diagnose the illness of Emmett (Red) Ormsby, American League umpire.

Ormsby's condition was described as "fair" at little company of Mary Hospital where he was taken Monday with a high fever. His physician, Dr. Richard J. Bennett, Jr., said the cause of the fever was unknown but tests were being made to determine the nature of the disease.

Ormsby, a native Chicagan who pitched semi-pro and minor league ball before joining the American League as an umpire in 1923, officiated at the first three games of the season here, but later retired from active duty because of illness.

Bull Lea Takes Spa Race by Nose

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—In a three-horse blanket finish, Warren Wright's Bull Lea whipped five other three-year-olds, four of them trained by James Fitzsimmons, in the 49th running of the $2500 Kenner Stakes at Saratoga.

Bull Lea, the son of Bull Dog, which set two track records at Keeneland and then failed in the Kentucky Derby, reached the end of the mile and three-sixteenths only a nose in front of William Woodward's Fighting Fox, also a Derby disappointment in the role of the favorite.

Stormcud, from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, coupled with the Fox, Anaflame and Quick Devil in the betting, was only another nose back in third place.

GOODMAN STARTS IT

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4 (INS)—Ival Goodman's homer with one man on helped the Cincinnati Reds rally for three runs in the tenth inning and vanquish the Phillies, 6 to 3, in the second game of the series.

Wood, McNeill In Semi-Final

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—Sidney Wood of New York and Don McNeill of Oklahoma City gained the lower semi-final bracket of the 48th annual Meadow Club invitation tournament today. Wood defeated Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, Ga., 7—5, 8—6, and McNeill trounced Charles Hare, England's second ranking player, 6—3, 6—4.

Wood, seeded eighth and last in the tournament, had to come from behind in the second set after the little Southerner had built a 4—2 lead. The blond Davis Cup veteran, ordinarily a hard hitter, was forced to rely almost mainly on his soft game, as he experienced difficulty controlling his smashes.

McNeill's task was easy. He established a 5—1 advantage in each set, then coasted on the margin. These tactics nearly cost him the second set when Hare took three consecutive games, and baffled McNeill to deuce three times in the decisive game before he succumbed.

Pirates Showing Surprise of Loop

By Associated Press

The calendar must be wrong. If this is August 4, then what are the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are usually sound asleep by this time, doing up there 5½ games in front of the National League pack at this late date.

How come Cleveland's Indians, once so docile and sweet to the leaders, are in there punching, only two games off the Yankees in the American League party?

And those aren't the only cases where either the calendar is way off or someone has his dates twisted. For instance, there are the Cincinnati Reds, doormats of '37, tied with the up-and-down Chicago Cubs for the National League's third place, while the somewhat gasless Cardinals wallow around in seventh and Brooklyn's baffling Dodgers head the second division.

TIGERS FLOUNDERING

And over in the American League, the supposedly woe-begone Washington Senators hang grimly onto fourth place, while Mickey Cochrane's Tigers can't seem to stay above the .500 mark.

Take that National League fuss. Pie Traynor must be feeding his blazin' Bucs a combination of raw meat liberally sprinkled with dynamite. Even though the season is on the way toward the three-quarter mark, the "zing" Lee Handley and Pep Young are pouring in the infield, plus the work of the younger pitchers, is making the club hotter than the weather.

GIANTS LOSING GROUND

From the looks of things, the Giants, 5½ games back—seven on the losing side—aren't going to do much catching up, even though they showed signs of coming to life in walloping the Cubs 8-3 with an attack featured by four homers.

The way things shape up now, if the Pirates can maintain their edge through the middle of this month, they have a very good chance of breezing in with the flag.

Naiad Out For Three New Marks

Doris Brennan, outstanding New England girl swimmer, will bid for three new records to feature the opening day's card tomorrow in the two-day inaugural Bretton Woods invitation swimming carnival, to be staged in the new Mt. Washington hotel pool.

The Olneyville Boys' Club auxiliary star will be pushed in the 50-meters freestyle by Edith Ledwell of the B. S. A. and Betty Thompson of the Women's Swimming Association of Rockline.

Also entered in this sprint are Edna Soltysiak, Olneyville; Beryl Coburn, also Olneyville, and Dorothy Leonard, Worcester W. S. A.

Miss Brennan's next effort will be in the 100-meters breaststroke, in which she will face Barbara Hildreth, Worcester and Posse school; Frances Ivas and Patricia Grojean, B. S. A., and her teammate, Edna Soltysiak.

In the 220-yards freestyle, Miss Brennan, New England champion and record-holder for the distance, will match strokes with Eileen McCarthy of the B. S. A., Dot Leonard and Edna Soltysiak.

Sullivan

Trophy for Budge

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Don Budge, the California red-head who has every tennis trophy worth winning, now has another trophy infinitely harder to get—the James E. Sullivan Memorial, as the outstanding amateur athlete of 1937.

Budge received it from Judge Samuel Hoyt, president of the A. A. U., at a luncheon at the New York Athletic Club. The medal was awarded by a landslide vote, last January when Budge was in Australia.

Judge Hoyt praised Don for his sportsmanship and his modesty as well as for his tennis.

Sheppard Pays $20,000 For McLin

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP) — If Lawrence B. Sheppard of the famous Hanover, Pa., trotting farms can't breed a Hambletonian favorite he goes out and buys one.

After winning the 1930 renewal of trotting's richest race with the homebred Hanover's Bertha and repeating last year with Shirley Hanover, Sheppard has paid $20,000 for McLin, one of the favorites for next Wednesday's $40,000 classic at Goshen, N. Y.

W. H. Cane, promoter of the famous race, apparently was thinking of the adage of "a bird in the h—d is worth two in the bush" when he sold McLin. The winner's share of the purse will not amount to much more than he got for the son of Mr. McElwyn-Ethelinda. Cane won the 1929 race with Walter Dear, but for the last several years has been without a serious contender.

McLin was unknown until a few weeks ago when his crafty trainer, Walter Cox, worked him a mile in 2:04¼. As a two-year old he finished last in five races and could do a mile in no better than 2:13⅘.

The colt made his first start of the year in the American stake at Agawam last week. After having Long Key, the Hambletonian favorite, beaten in the second heat when he broke just after passing the seven-eighths pole, McLin came back to win the third mile in 2:07 over a slow track.

Long Key previously had traveled a winning mile in 2:01⅘ this year to establish himself as the public choice.

SHIRLEY HURT AS AUTO DOOR NIPS FINGERS

Sight and Sightseer—Shirley Temple, off for a round of Boston's historic spots, finds plenty to interest her . . . and plenty of her to interest the inhabitants. Here she and her parents are making a quick look-see of Concord. Boston Evening American Photo

Shirley Temple was painfully injured today, when an automobile door was slammed on her fingers at the navy yard in Charlestown.

No bones were broken, said Shirley's personal physician, who was with the party when the accident occurred.

But, sobbing "It hurts awful," Shirley put her curly head in her father's lap and cried.

The mishap was an unlucky climax of an otherwise happy day, during which Hollywood's dimpled, smiling Princess Curlytop rode by auto over Paul Revere's historic route to Lexington and Concord, then cruised Boston harbor aboard the police boat Michael H. Crowley.

DOOR SLAMMED ON HAND

The cruise took Shirley and her guests, Mayor Tobin and his fam-

Newsmen Swarm Corrigan Ship

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD S. S. MANHATTAN, AT SEA, Aug 4—Douglas Corrigan, whose strongest indulgences are pie a la mode and chocolate candy, got his first glimpse of what awaits him in New York today when, at 7 a. m., a crew of journalists, photographers, newsreel men and radio broadcasters swarmed aboard the Manhattan.

Their flamboyant arrival aboard two cutters out of a thick fog off Nantucket lightship aroused the entire ship, but Corrigan was all dressed and ready for them. As if to get "into training" for today's big doings in blistering New York, Corrigan readily co-operated with most of the newsmen's demands. But some of their requests he ruled out, calling prospective pictures "too posed."

STICKS TO MISTAKE TALE

As the boat neared New York, where Corrigan was expected to receive heaps more lucrative offers for almost every activity under the sun, he responded negatively when asked if he was interested in accepting an airline job.

All the prying and quizzing of the journalistic invaders could not shake Corrigan loose from his steadfast contention that his flight from New York to Dublin in a $900 "egg-crate" was all a mistake.

In fact, he even kidded the navigators of the Manhattan. It

Spohrer Freed Of $76 UCC Theft Charges

Al Spohrer, former Braves catcher, was acquitted in East Boston court today of the charge of larceny of $76 from three Unemployment Compensation Commission aid recipients.

He was arrested last week as the result of testimony given by three East Boston residents before a special legislative committee probing "gift" jobs on the commission payroll.

His three accusers were Miss Lena Datrone, 21, of Trenton street; Mrs. Josephine Grano, 45, of Chelsea street, and Leo Dambrosio, 40, of Bennington street.

They told the investigating committee that they had paid Spohrer, superintendent of the East Boston office of the commission sums of money they had received as excess unemployment relief.

The warrant on which he was arrested alleged Spohrer kept these repaid funds and rendered no account of them to the state treasurer.

Spohrer immediately left the courtroom to return to his job, which he had continued to hold despite the larceny allegation.

It'll Be Hot 2 Days More But Not So Doggone Hot

Hot weather is due to last two more days but it won't be anything like the past two days.

"Slightly cooler tonight, with local thundershowers," the weatherman said.

Then he added that tomorrow would see "some slight relief from the heat."

The mercury was lagging slightly behind yesterday's readings.

It was 85 at noon today compared to 90 yesterday. Within an hour, however, it was up to 89 degrees.

Because of the heat, the noon delivery of mail in 25 cities and towns in the Boston postal district was cancelled by Postmaster Peter F. Tague. Such an order is almost unprecedented.

At Manchester, N. H., 700 women employes of a local shoe company were dismissed from work as the factory thermometer climbed to 97. Male employes remained at their benches.
